Corporate Governance Statement 2023

The Board of Directors (Board) of Insignia Financial Ltd (Insignia Financial) is responsible for the governance of Insignia Financial and its subsidiaries and related bodies corporate (the Group). Key aspects of the Group's corporate governance framework, policies and practices are set out in this Corporate Governance Statement (Statement).

Introduction

Our approach to corporate governance is based on a set of values and behaviours that underpin day-to-day activities, provide transparency and fair dealing, and seek to protect stakeholder interests. The Board and management of Insignia Financial recognise the importance of good corporate governance and are committed to maintaining the highest standards of corporate governance within the Group. We maintain a focus on governance uplift as part of our Group Strategy.

This Statement:

- reports against the ASX Corporate Governance Principles and Recommendations, 4th Edition (ASX Governance Principles) and the practices detailed in this Statement are current as at 15 September 2023; and
- has been approved by the Board.

Further information regarding Insignia Financial's compliance with the ASX Governance Principles is set out in Insignia Financial's Appendix 4G, which is a checklist cross-referencing the ASX Governance Principles to the relevant disclosures in this Statement or other relevant documents.

This Statement, along with our ASX Appendix 4G, was lodged with the ASX on 19 October 2023. Details about the ASX Governance Principles can be found on the ASX Limited (ASX) website www.asx.com.au.

Insignia Financial's Board Charter, Code of Conduct and the Terms of Reference for the Board Committees identified in this Statement can be located here: www.insigniafinancial.com.au/corporate-governance.

Governance Framework

The Board

Roles and responsibilities of the Board

The Board Charter outlines the roles and responsibilities of the Board and management. Some of the key responsibilities of the Chief Executive Officer (CEO) are as follows:

- embed the Group culture, reflecting the Group's Principles¹ and Code of Conduct
- ensure that decisions are made and resources are used only to further the Purpose² and Strategy³
- implement the Group's Strategy and business plan, operating within the budget and risk appetite set by the Board
- exercise the powers delegated by the Board in conformity with the duties imposed on Directors under the Corporations Act and Insignia Financial's Constitution

- ensure that decisions are made in the best interests of shareholders and take into account other stakeholder interests as appropriate, including customers, beneficiaries, members, employees and the community
- maintain systems of risk management, compliance and internal controls for financial and non-financial risk
- ensure that all material matters and any material correspondence from regulators are brought to the attention of the Board in a timely manner to enable the Board to discharge its responsibilities.

The key responsibilities of the Board are oversight of the strategic direction of the Group and the effective oversight of management. This includes the following, as well as specific matters reserved to the Board set out in the Charter:

- oversight of management in embedding the Group culture reflecting the Group's Principles⁴, Code of Conduct and a sound risk management culture

1, 2, 3 & 4 As that term is defined in the Board Charter

- developing the strategic initiatives with management and monitoring the implementation of the strategic initiatives and achievement of financial objectives
- monitoring compliance with regulatory requirements
- oversight of risk management
- monitoring the effectiveness of corporate governance practices
- challenging management whenever required and holding management to account
- considering environmental, social and ethical impacts of the Group's activities.

Appointment of Directors

The Board is responsible for the review of the Board's composition and performance.

To assist with these responsibilities, the Board has established the Group Nominations Committee.

The Committee:

- assesses candidates for recommendation to the Board for appointment, election and re-election
- reviews the process for Board, Board Committee and individual director performance
- reviews the induction program for new directors
- provides recommendations on succession planning.

The Committee comprises five independent Directors. The Chair of the Committee is not the Chair of the Board.

In the case of appointment, a candidate's attributes are assessed paying particular attention to the mix of skills, experience, expertise, diversity (see below) and other qualities of existing directors. It is considered how the candidate's attributes will balance and complement those qualities.

The process includes consideration of the following:

- selection criteria, having regard to the Board skills matrix
- an assessment of a candidate's independence
- appropriate checks, including as to the person's character, experience and education and background checks
- the current and past associations of candidates
- the appropriateness of other directorships
- the ability of the candidate to meet the time commitment required (as advised to the candidate) and receipt of an acknowledgement from the candidate that they will have sufficient time to fulfill their responsibilities as a director.

A person may be appointed by the Board to fill a casual vacancy or as an addition to the Board. Should such an appointment fall between Annual General Meetings (AGM) the newly appointed director holds office until the next AGM and is eligible for election at that meeting.

In the case of a director who has been appointed by the Board and seeks election for the first time, or the re-election of a director, the assessment process takes annual performance reviews into account. The AGM notice includes all material information known by Insignia Financial about each candidate and a recommendation of the Board as to whether shareholders should vote in favour of the election or re-election of a director.

A new director receives an appointment letter setting out the terms of appointment and a deed of indemnity.

Directors' induction and continuing professional development

On appointment, each new director undertakes an induction program to familiarise the director with the Group's business and strategy. The program is structured to make sure that the new director is introduced to senior management and acquainted with relevant business operations. This includes access to a directors' induction pack containing information about corporate governance policies and the business of the Group, along with one-on-one sessions with senior executives.

Each director is required to accrue Continued Professional Development (CPD) hours. Directors are supported through in-house education and access to any external training required to maintain the skills and knowledge needed to perform their roles as directors effectively.

Independence of Directors

The Board must consist of a majority of independent directors. It makes an independence assessment upon a director's appointment and then annually, as well as if any new information or change in circumstance requires a reassessment.

The Board has adopted the approach to independence outlined in the ASX Governance Principles and considers that a director is independent if the Board assesses the director as being free of any interest, position or relationship that might influence, or reasonably be perceived to influence, in a material respect, their capacity to bring an independent judgement to bear on issues before the Board and to act in the best interests of Insignia Financial as a whole rather than the interests of an individual security holder or other party. The Board takes into account the following in making that assessment:

- Executive relationship – the person is, or has been, employed in an executive capacity by Insignia Financial or any of its subsidiaries or its related bodies corporate and there has not been a period of at least three years between ceasing such employment and serving on the Board
- Performance-based remuneration – the person receives performance-based remuneration (including options or performance rights) from, or participates in, an employee incentive scheme of Insignia Financial

- Material business relationship – the person is, or has been within the last three years, in a material business relationship (e.g., as a supplier, professional adviser, consultant or customer) with Insignia Financial or any of its subsidiaries or its related bodies corporate, or is an officer of, or otherwise associated with, someone with such a relationship
- Substantial holder – the person is, represents, or is or has been within the last three years an officer or employee of, or professional adviser to, a substantial holder
- Close personal ties – the person has close personal ties with any person who falls within any of the categories described above
- Long tenured director – the person has been a director of Insignia Financial for such a period that their independence from management and substantial holders may have been compromised.

The Board has assessed the independence of each Non-Executive Director and has concluded that all are independent. Accordingly, at the date of this report, five of the six Directors (being all the Non-Executive Directors) are considered independent.

Board skills matrix

The Board utilises a skills matrix which sets out the mix of skills, experience and expertise that the Board is looking to achieve in its membership over the short to medium term.

During the course of the Financial Year, an updated skills matrix was introduced. The matrix highlights the need for directors to have both technical and industry understanding, as well as experience in catering to the needs of clients and stakeholders. The Board has since reviewed the matrix and believes that it continues to contain the right mix of competencies and skills in order to meet the existing and emerging needs of the business. The Board also believes that the matrix aligns with the strategic objectives of Insignia Financial.

The skills matrix presented here details the Board’s current assessment of their skills coverage. The Board considers that all skills are well represented on the Board, and will continue to use the matrix to inform the Board’s composition, succession planning and ongoing director training.

Performance

Board, Board Committees and Directors

The Board recognises the importance of continually monitoring and improving its performance, as well as the performance of its Board Committees and Directors. Performance reviews are conducted annually, either through an internal process or an independent third party.

The Board last conducted an external review in 2021. In 2022, an internal review process was conducted which focused on several topics including Board meeting processes, Board behavioural dynamics and the effectiveness of Board Committees. This review process was completed in November 2022, and the results were that the Board and its Board Committees and individual Directors were considered to be performing in accordance with expectations.

The Board has determined that an external and independent assessment of Board performance will be undertaken in the 2024 calendar year.

Management

All Executive candidates undergo appropriate background checks before appointment. The CEO and the Executives have written employment agreements which set out the terms and conditions of their employment.

The Board, in conjunction with the Group People & Remuneration Committee, is responsible for approving the performance goals and measures for the CEO and other senior executives and providing input into the evaluation of performance against these objectives. The Group Audit Committee and the Group Risk & Compliance Committee also refer to the Group People & Remuneration Committee any matters that they may consider appropriate with respect to remuneration policy or practices.

Annual management performance evaluations for the financial year ended 30 June 2023 were conducted following the end of the financial year.

There is further discussion on performance objectives and performance achieved in the Remuneration Report in the 2023 Annual Report.

Ethical and responsible decision making

The Insignia Financial Group is committed to the highest standards of conduct and ethical behaviour in all our business activities, and to promoting and supporting a culture of honest and ethical behaviours, corporate compliance and good corporate governance.

Code of Conduct

The Board has adopted a Code of Conduct (the Code) which applies to all directors, officers, employees, contractors and consultants within the Group and is designed to ensure a high standard of honest and ethical corporate and individual behaviour. Each employee is required to read and accept the Code as part of their induction and then review its terms annually.

The Insignia Financial Principles that underpin the Code include:

- Be Human – we treat those around us the way we'd like to be treated – openly, honestly and respectfully.
- Deliver what matters – we make sure we understand what matters to every client and we make it happen.
- Stronger together – only by working together can we truly serve our clients.
- Keep it simple – we remove complexity.
- Do what's right, not what's easy – we back ourselves to make the right call. We speak up.

Our Code is an undertaking from all our people outlining the standards and principles we have agreed to adopt. As we work in our day-to-day roles and deliver on our advice-led strategy, we all play a vital role in upholding the standards of the Code for our clients, the community and each other.

The Code interacts with various Group policies and associated practices including but not limited to the following: Anti-Bribery and Anti-Corruption Policy, Anti-Money Laundering and Counter Terrorism Financing Program – Parts A and B, Incidents and Breaches Policy, Confidentiality Undertaking, Conflicts of Interest Policy, Drug and Alcohol Policy, Fraud Policy, Internal Social Media Policy, IT Code of Conduct, Acceptable Use of Technology Policy, IT Security Policy, Managing Performance and Conduct Policy, Workplace Health & Safety Policy and Whistleblower Policy.

Breaches of the Code of Conduct are reported to the Board and relevant risk and compliance committees. The Insignia Financial Code of Conduct is available on our website at www.insigniafinancial.com.au/corporate-governance.

Securities trading

Under the Personal Trading in Securities Policy (Group Trading Policy), directors, employees and certain associates of those persons are restricted from dealing in securities (including Insignia Financial securities) if they are in possession of inside information. The Group Trading Policy aims to balance the personal investment interests of Insignia Financial staff with the responsibilities and interests of Insignia Financial, its shareholders and the market by ensuring that all personal trading and investing activities are lawfully and properly conducted.

The Group Trading Policy prohibits directors, employees and certain restricted persons from:

- trading in securities on the basis of confidential or inside information
- trading in Insignia Financial securities during 'blackout periods' as defined in the Policy.
- trading in Insignia Financial shares where the trading is likely to be considered short-term, speculative or excessive.

The Group Trading Policy provides for some exceptional circumstances where trading may be permitted during a prohibited period with prior written approval. The Policy also prohibits employees from hedging interests that have been granted under any Insignia Financial employee share plan that are either unvested or subject to a holding lock. Any staff margin lending arrangements over Insignia Financial shares are required to be notified to the Company Secretary.

Directors have entered into an agreement with Insignia Financial which requires approval before trading in Insignia Financial's securities as well as ongoing disclosure to Insignia Financial of any change in the Director's interest in securities within three business days of the change occurring. Certain restricted employees are also required to obtain consent before conducting any trading in Insignia Financial securities.

A copy of the Group Trading Policy is available on our website at www.insigniafinancial.com.au/corporate-governance.

The Insignia Financial Group has an additional policy which governs the personal trading activities of certain staff who may have access to inside information about funds, companies and business which have been obtained during the course of their employment and is not otherwise publicly available. This includes staff in the Asset Management division, the Advice Research team and Bridges Financial Services.

Whistleblower protection

The Insignia Financial Whistleblower Policy recognises the critical role whistleblowing can play in the early detection and rectification of misconduct and reflects Insignia Financial's commitment to providing support and protection to whistleblowers, so they feel free to report without fear of reprisal.

Under the Whistleblower Policy our people and others (including officers, suppliers, consultants and contractors) can report concerns through a number of channels including our confidential Whistleblower Hotline which is operated by PwC. Whistleblowers may report anonymously if they wish and will still be protected under our Whistleblower Policy. A Whistleblower Protection Officer has been appointed to safeguard the interests of whistleblowers, so they feel free to report without fear of retaliatory action. Matters raised under the Whistleblower Policy, including any material incidents, are reported through to either the Group Audit Committee or Group Risk & Compliance Committee.

The Insignia Financial Whistleblower Policy is available on our website at: www.insigniafinancial.com.au/corporate-governance.

Anti-bribery and anti-corruption

The Insignia Financial Anti-Bribery and Anti-Corruption Policy prohibits employees from engaging in any activity that constitutes bribery or corruption, and provides a framework to ensure that related risks within Insignia Financial's businesses are properly identified, mitigated and managed.

Breaches of the Policy will be dealt with in accordance with the Insignia Financial Incidents and Breaches Policy and are reported to the Board.

The Insignia Financial Anti-Bribery and Anti-Corruption Policy is available on our website at: www.insigniafinancial.com.au/corporate-governance.

Diversity and Inclusion

An important part of our culture is the belief that Insignia Financial is a place where we all belong, our people and clients alike. Diversity and inclusion lie at the very heart of Insignia Financial's culture of belonging.

We believe by creating an environment that allows people to be themselves, they will feel connected to the organisation and as such, perform at their best. This is a key enabler to sustainable business success, ensuring we attract and retain high performing people. In order to help achieve this, Insignia Financial has a Diversity and Inclusion Policy which sets out our diversity and inclusion principles, priorities and resolution protocols.

Insignia Financial also has a Diversity and Inclusion Plan for 2022 to 2024, which reaffirms our on-going commitment to diversity and inclusion at Insignia Financial.

The Plan contains our diversity and inclusion strategy, which comprises initiatives that:

- raise awareness
- provide support
- celebrate difference
- create belonging, and
- address systemic inequalities to level the playing field.

The strategy focuses on six key areas, each representing parts of our community that need specific support: pride, accessibility, reconciliation, life and family, gender and multicultural.

Each of these six key areas is sponsored by an Executive Team member and is led by a senior business leader. These individuals make up our Diversity and Inclusion Advisory Committee, which is chaired by our Chief Executive Officer, Renato Mota.

A key goal within our strategy is to gain ‘bronze tier status’ under the Australian Workplace Equality Index by the end of 2024. This index drives best practice in Australia, setting a comparative benchmark for Australian employers across all sectors. It is designed to gauge the overall impact of inclusion initiatives on organisational culture for LGBTQIA+ identifying and non-identifying employees. Another key partnership established in 2023 has been with Family Friendly Workplaces, an organisation who informs employers of the minimum and best practice policies and practices they can invest in to create a family friendly workplace culture and will apply for certification as a Family Friendly Workplace during financial year 2024.

Our people are positive about our approach to diversity and inclusion, with 85% of our people agreeing Insignia Financial values diversity (equal to the external benchmark⁶) and 77% agreeing we build teams that are diverse (+2 points above the external benchmark⁷) in the April 2023 employee engagement survey.

Through our work in the diversity and inclusion space we aim to build a balanced business which represents the broader community we serve. The Diversity and Inclusion Policy and the Diversity and Inclusion Plan can be found on our website at: www.insigniafinancial.com.au/corporate-governance.

Our measurable objective for achieving gender diversity in the composition of the Board is to have not less than 30% representation of each gender, and with female representation at 40%, Insignia Financial currently exceeds this objective.

Gender diversity and pay gap

We continue to take action towards creating gender equity at Insignia Financial. Despite some recent downward movement for female representation within some key leadership cohorts, our female representation at an organisational level is 48.6% (June 2023). As at May 2023, our gender pay gap is 14.5%, which is well below the broader Financial Services and Australian averages and we remain committed to improving this important measure.

Another key focus for us is improving our female talent pipeline for senior and executive roles. We are currently working on this through our ‘Our Leading Women’ sponsorship and mentorship program which focuses on improving the visibility, connectedness, and growth of high potential women across the organisation and our broader Talent Review process. In 2023 we became a member organisation of the Champions of Change Coalition, which is a globally recognised, innovative strategy for achieving gender equality, advancing more and diverse women in leadership, and building respectful and inclusive workplaces.

The table below displays the number of women in executive and senior management positions, and across the whole workforce:

Category	Female Representation July 2022	Female Representation July 2023	Female representation target outlined in 2022 to 2024 Diversity and Inclusion Strategy

The IOOF Foundation

At Insignia Financial we are dedicated to making an ongoing positive contribution to the communities in which we live. In FY23, the IOOF Foundation contributed more than $695,000 to community organisations, bringing the total funds distributed since its inception to more than $17 million. Our grants program offers long term grants (up to three years) in areas that have been historically important to Insignia Financial, such as:

- Basic needs: as the cost of living rises in Australia, providing support to people to access essential needs.
- Financial wellbeing: helping build financial capability by providing tools to help others improve their financial literacy.
- Education: supporting programs that engage those most at risk of leaving the education system.
- Health and wellbeing: underpinning all our programs is a focus on better mental health outcomes.

Detailed information can be found in our Environmental, Social and Governance (ESG) report within our 2023 Annual Report.

Our people

At Insignia Financial our purpose – understand me, look after me, secure my future – guides our approach to our people. We strive to create an environment where our people feel understood, looked after and secure.

We continue to focus on our employees' safety, health and wellbeing, providing diverse support and educational opportunities to ensure they thrive. This includes career and development planning, learning opportunities, and commitment to financial study support. In addition, we offer a range of programs and services to support the wellbeing of all employees, including investing in and promoting initiatives to support employee mental and physical health.

Further information can be found in our ESG report within our 2023 Annual Report.

Financial reporting

The Board has a strong commitment to the integrity and quality of its financial reporting and its systems for risk management, compliance and internal control. The Board of Insignia Financial receives regular reports about the financial condition and operational performance of Insignia Financial and its subsidiaries and related bodies corporate.

The CEO and CFO:

- attest annually to the Board that the financial records have been properly maintained in accordance with the Corporations Act requirements;
- report in writing to the Board that the consolidated financial statements of Insignia Financial and each of the subsidiaries and related bodies corporate for each half year and full year present a true and fair view, in all material respects, of the Group's financial condition and are in accordance with accounting standards; and

- report on the Group's risk management system (financial, strategic and operational) and its effectiveness.

Unaudited financial information is provided to the market in the form of the Directors' Report, quarterly Funds Under Management and Administration (FUMA) updates, the Investor and Analyst Book, and other ad hoc market updates such as earnings outlook or guidance. The content of these reports and updates is verified through monthly management reports, checked for consistency against our financial statements and prior disclosures, and key strategies are reviewed by relevant executive team members and their teams to ensure they are relevant and current before release to the market.

Group Audit Committee

The Board has established a Group Audit Committee to provide assistance to the Board in relation to financial reporting, audit and taxation.

The primary objectives of the Committee are oversight of the following:

- the system of risk management, compliance and internal control framework relating to financial information, reporting and disclosure
- financial reporting (including professional accounting) requirements, including regulatory reporting
- the internal audit function (including appointment of the internal auditor)
- the external audit function (including appointment of the external auditor)
- taxation, and
- treasury.

The Committee comprises five independent directors. The Chair of the Committee is not the Chair of the Board. All Group Audit Committee members have appropriate financial experience, an understanding of the financial services industry and satisfy the independence requirements under the ASX Governance Principles.

External auditor

The role of the external auditor is to provide an independent opinion that the financial reports are true and fair, and comply with applicable regulations.

Our external auditor, KPMG, was appointed in November 2008, effective for the audit for the financial year ended 30 June 2009. The external auditor receives all Group Audit Committee and Group Risk & Compliance Committee papers, attends all meetings of these Committees and is available to Committee members at any time. The external auditor has the opportunity to present to the Group Audit Committee at least annually, and in practice at each Group Audit Committee meeting, without management being present. The external auditor attends the AGM to answer questions from shareholders regarding the conduct of its audit, the audit report, financial statements and its independence.

KPMG is required to confirm its independence and compliance with independence standards. In order to ensure this independence, the roles of lead audit partner and review audit partner must be rotated every five years and cannot be resumed by the same person for a minimum of five years.

The Group Audit Committee assesses the performance of the external auditors annually. As a result of recent significant acquisitions of MLC and former ANZ Pensions & Investments businesses and the need for Lead KPMG partner rotation, the Group Audit Committee in conjunction with management, undertook a closed external audit tender process in March 2023. The purpose of the closed tender process was to appropriately challenge the KPMG team and their audit process and to reset the relationship.

The Board has adopted a formal policy on the provision of non-audit services by the external auditor.

Internal audit

Insignia Financial's internal audit activities are undertaken by the Group Internal Audit function, which is governed by a Charter approved by the Group Audit Committee. The role of Group Internal Audit is to provide the Board and management with independent and objective assurance on the effectiveness of the Group's governance, risk management and internal control processes. To maintain its necessary independence, Group Internal Audit has no direct operational responsibility or authority over any of Insignia Financial's business or risk management activities.

Functional responsibility for Group Internal Audit resides with the General Manager, Group Internal Audit, whose appointment is approved by the Board. The General Manager, Group Internal Audit reports directly to the Group Audit Committee and to relevant subsidiary Boards or Board Audit Committees. Group Internal Audit has full and unrestricted access to all of Insignia Financial's information systems, records, physical properties and employees in order to carry out its activities. The work of Group Internal Audit is guided by The International Professional Practices Framework provided by the Institute of Internal Auditors. The Group Audit Committee monitors Group Internal Audit's activities and performance, including its independence.

Market and shareholder communication

Market disclosure

The Board is committed to keeping its shareholders and the market fully informed of material developments that may have an impact on the Group. In line with this commitment, Insignia Financial maintains a Market Disclosure and Communications Policy which governs how we communicate with shareholders and the investment community and which is available on the Insignia Financial website at: www.insigniafinancial.com.au/corporate-governance.

The Market Disclosure and Communications Policy is designed to ensure compliance with Insignia Financial's obligations under the ASX Listing Rules and the Corporations Act. It includes processes to identify matters that are likely to have a material effect on the price of the Insignia Financial's securities and to ensure notifications to the ASX are factual and made in a timely manner in accordance with the ASX Listing Rule requirements. Processes for engagement with analysts and investors are also detailed in this Policy, including a requirement that any new and substantive investor or analyst presentation is released to the ASX ahead of the presentation. Once relevant information is disclosed to the market, it is also published on the Insignia Financial website. Board members are provided with copies of all material market announcements once they have been made.

The Board is supported by a Market Disclosure Committee which is responsible for considering potentially market sensitive information, and monitoring Insignia Financial's disclosure processes and reporting framework.

The Group Company Secretary has been nominated as the person responsible for all communications with the ASX.

Shareholders

Insignia Financial recognises the right of shareholders to receive effective communication which ensures shareholders are informed of all necessary information to fully assess the performance of the Group. Insignia Financial communicates shareholder information about the Group through its Annual Report, disclosures to the ASX, at the AGM and via the Insignia Financial website. In addition, shareholders have the opportunity to receive relevant documentation electronically via Insignia Financial's Registry and can communicate with Insignia Financial via email.

The Board encourages active participation by shareholders at any Insignia Financial shareholders meeting. Risk management

Roles and responsibilities

The Board recognises that effective management of risk is an integral part of sound governance and is vital to the continued growth and success of Insignia Financial. The Board is ultimately responsible for the oversight of the Insignia Financial Group's Risk Management Framework. The Board has implemented a framework designed to ensure that the Group's risks are identified, analysed, evaluated, monitored and communicated, both within the organisation or to any relevant external party and that adequate controls and mitigation processes are in place and function effectively.

The Board has established a Group Risk & Compliance Committee whose primary objective is to monitor and receive assurances that:

- an appropriate and effective Risk Management Framework is in place for identifying, assessing, mitigating and monitoring material risks
- appropriate and effective compliance policies, procedures and frameworks are in place for identifying, monitoring and managing relevant obligations
- operations are conducted within the scope of the abovenamed policies, procedures and frameworks
- management devotes relevant, appropriate and proper attention to compliance and risk management issues.

In accordance with the annual work plan, the Group Risk & Compliance Committee reviewed the Risk Management Framework during the reporting period to satisfy itself that it continues to be sound.

The Group Risk & Compliance Committee comprises five independent Directors including an independent Director as Chair. It is regularly attended by representatives from the Enterprise Risk & Compliance division, Internal and External Audit as well as representatives from each operating business within the Group at the request of the Chair. The Chief Risk Officer and the Enterprise Risk & Compliance team report to the Committee on the monitoring of risk through the enterprise-wide Risk Management Framework including, where appropriate, positive assurance.

The Committee meets regularly and reports to the Board.

'Three lines of accountability' model

Insignia Financial adopts the 'three lines of accountability' model to govern risk management activities across the organisation. The model is represented as follows:

 First line – Business management	Business units are accountable for identifying, managing and owning the risks inherent in the products, services, activities, processes and systems they are responsible for.
 Second line – Risk Management function	The independent Risk Management function, led by the Chief Risk Officer, is responsible for the design, maintenance and ongoing development of the Risk Management Framework. Risk Management supports the first line in its risk management responsibilities by providing independent challenge and oversight, as well as specialist risk advice. This includes assessing the use and adequacy of frameworks, systems, processes and behaviours, to form a view of how well risk and compliance is managed across the Group.
 Third line – Independent assurance	Internal audit provide a third line of independence and oversight of the first and second-line activities. This oversight may include other independent reviews commissioned by the Board.

Board and Committees

The Board and Committees are responsible for:

- an effective governance structure;
- oversight of the Risk Management Framework;
- review and approval of the Risk Management Strategies;
- setting the risk appetite for each risk category;
- oversight of the Group risk profile; and
- promoting a sound risk culture.

The Board is responsible for developing the Risk Management Framework which is designed to ensure that the Group's risks are identified, analysed, evaluated, monitored and communicated, both within the organisation or to any relevant external party and that adequate controls and mitigation processes are in place and function effectively. The Board is responsible for setting the Group's risk appetite and ensures that it reviews the Group risk profile for the business on a quarterly basis.

Material risk categories are reviewed by the Board annually or as emerging risks arise. Key risks identified, including emerging risks, and Insignia Financial's response to managing those risks have been disclosed at page 63 through 65 of the 2023 Annual Report.

The CEO and the Chief Financial Officer report to the Board that to the best of their knowledge the financial reporting assurances given under section 295A Corporations Act are founded on a sound system of risk management and internal compliance and control which is operating efficiently and effectively in all material respects in so far as they relate to financial, strategic and operational risks.

This report confirms that the system which implements the policies adopted by the Board either directly or through delegation to management, and the Group's risk management and internal compliance are operating effectively in all material respects as at the date of the report, based on the risk management model adopted by the Board. The statement provides a reasonable, but not absolute, level of assurance and does not imply a guarantee against adverse events or more volatile outcomes arising in the future. In addition, the report sets out that the risk management and internal compliance and internal control systems are subject to periodic declaration by process owners and review through the Group's internal audit process and by regulators.
