During 2020/21, there were 12,700 coronary artery bypass graft procedures, 12,000 heart valve repair or replacement procedures, and 129 heart transplants performed in public and private hospitals across Australia<sup>1</sup>. During the same year the national data base recorded 451 extra corporal membrane oxygenation (ECMO) patient cases from 28 hospitals in Australia<sup>2</sup>. Through its large graphic interface and integrated data management system, Landing Advance provides clinical teams with effective, real-time monitoring of these complex and critical procedures.

Dr Richard Treagus, Executive Chairman commented, “this advanced technology makes the life-saving work of our healthcare professionals that much easier, ultimately helping to achieve more predictable and better patient outcomes. Our team is looking forward to implementing trials of Landing Advance at the major ECMO units in the coming weeks.”
