Optus signs additional 1+1 year contract extension for enterprise Knowledge Management solution

Knosys Limited (ASX: KNO), a global software-as-a-service (SaaS) information technology company, is pleased to announce that Optus has signed an additional one (1) year with the option for a further one (1) year contract extension for the continued use of Knosys' market leading knowledge management platform, KnowledgeIQ. The value of this contract extension (including one year option) has the potential to exceed $2.4 million.

Optus continues to demonstrate its commitment to the KnowledgeIQ solution. This latest contract extends the engagement for another year to January 2026 with the option to January 2027.

Knosys Managing Director, John Thompson, said "This further contract extension allows us to continue our partnership with Optus and further develop the knowledge management solution to meet their future business needs. Our development focus over the next 2 years will be on furthering the Ai capability of KnowledgeIQ and its integration with customer Ai programs."

"Over the past six months, we have secured contract extensions from our major KnowledgeIQ customer base, Service Tasmania, Health Direct and Singtel. This provides visibility on our recurring revenue base over the years ahead and enables us to make strategic investment decisions on the further development of this and other solutions in the portfolio."
