

STRATEGIC PARTNERSHIP WITH EVERCITY

Sydney, 29 January 2025 — NoviqTech (ASX:NVQ) is thrilled to announce a strategic partnership with Evercity (<https://evercity.io/>), combining the strengths of both organisations to drive innovation and sustainability in global carbon markets. This partnership integrates NoviqTech's Carbon Central platform with Evercity's specialised solution, creating a seamless and robust platform for onboarding and operational management and tokenisation of information aligned with international standards.

This collaboration strengthens both companies' capabilities and extends their reach into emerging markets, including East Africa, where Evercity has established a strong presence. By joining forces, NoviqTech and Evercity aim to accelerate the adoption of digital solutions that enhance transparency, accountability, and efficiency across carbon markets.

Key highlights of the partnership include:

- Integrated Capabilities: Evercity's expertise in onboarding carbon projects combines with Carbon Central's robust tools for monitoring, reporting and verification, enabling end-to-end solutions that meet global standards.
- Market Expansion: Both companies will leverage their networks to expand market presence, including in emerging regions such as East Africa, fostering greater adoption of blockchain-enabled climate finance solutions.
- Shared Vision for Growth: This partnership reflects a shared commitment to innovation and sustainability, unlocking mutual benefits and driving impactful outcomes for businesses and communities.

Global and Regional Engagements

At COP29, the world's premier climate conference hosted in partnership with the UN, Evercity announced a strategic collaboration with the Government of Uganda. It also took a leading role in the Digital Innovation Pavilion, a platform showcasing groundbreaking climate technologies and fostering transformative global partnerships. These milestones highlight Evercity's commitment to advancing sustainable solutions, transforming carbon markets in emerging economies, and driving innovation on a global stage in alignment with the UN's climate goals.

Key terms of the Strategic Partnership include joint exploration of potential projects, sharing technical expertise and resources and identifying aligned market opportunities and the agreement can be terminated by mutual agreement or 30 days' notice. Details like project name, objectives, deliverables, IP ownership, fees, and timelines are to be documented in future addenda. There is no other material information relevant to assessing the impact of the agreement with Evercity on the price or value of the Company's securities. As of now, the Company is unable to calculate the expected revenue from this agreement but will update the market once this information becomes available.

Freddy El Turk, CEO of NoviqTech, said: “This partnership represents a significant step forward for NoviqTech. Evercity’s expertise in project onboarding perfectly complements Carbon Central’s operational capabilities. Together, we are positioned to deliver transformative solutions to carbon markets worldwide.”

Alexey Shadrin, CEO of Evercity, said:

“Our partnership with NoviqTech exemplifies the power of collaboration in driving innovation and impact in global carbon markets. By combining our strengths, we are delivering solutions that enhance transparency, efficiency, and accountability, empowering project developers and stakeholders worldwide. With a strong focus on emerging markets like Africa, we are committed to leveraging cutting-edge technology to unlock new opportunities and accelerate progress toward sustainable development goals.”
