Review of operations

The profit for the consolidated entity after providing for income tax amounted to $882,868 (31 December 2023: loss of $2,107,839).

The consolidated entity reported an increase in revenue by approximately 39.3% to $10,078,355 from $7,234,646 in the previous reporting period.

During the first half of the current financial year, the consolidated entity consistently generated profits. While there was a temporary slowdown due to delays in constructing EV charger infrastructure, which impacted charger deployments, the consolidated entity remains optimistic that this represents a short-term setback. Encouraging signs of market recovery are already emerging.

Additionally, despite one of the consolidated entity's major customers undergoing a change in ownership and management, the consolidated entity is confident that the new leadership team is honouring the current open orders for this product.

With the support of the new management team, the consolidated entity continues to make steady progress toward enhancing production. Manufacturing processes have become more efficient, delivering higher quality outputs and the potential for increased volumes. The successful implementation of the EPR system across the group has further enhanced operational transparency, equipping the management team with real-time data to drive more efficient operations and make well-informed decisions.

Outlook

The consolidated entity will continue developing next-generation EV charging modules with higher power density, greater efficiency, and improved reliability in a cost-effective manner. RT22 G3 prototypes to reduce product costs are expected to be ready for customer validation by the end of Q1 2025, with full-scale production planned for Q3 2025.

Continued engineering efforts have focused on the RT21 High-Voltage Input Rectifier to improve efficiency and EMC performance. 48V prototypes for customer validation are expected by March 2025, with volume production planned to commence in Q2 2025.

The consolidated entity's manufacturing strategy focuses on efficiency, capacity expansion, and quality enhancement. Under the leadership of the new management team, key initiatives are being implemented to strengthen operations and drive sustainable growth.

This includes expanding subcontracting to maximize efficiency and agility by leveraging external expertise to enhance productivity and strategic investments in automation to streamline operations, minimize errors, and ensure greater consistency in production processes. These advancements will increase capacity, elevate product quality, and reinforce operational excellence.

Rectifier Technologies Ltd and Controlled Entities Directors' report 31 December 2024

Additionally, the successful implementation of an ERP system across the entities has transformed our operational transparency. With real-time data at our fingertips, management can make faster, data-driven decisions that enhance efficiency and drive continuous improvement.

The consolidated entity continues to explore opportunities in Battery and Energy Management Systems (BMS and EMS) and potential projects in Southeast Asia, while evaluating the expansion of its business into system solutions through proprietary innovations and partnerships with global suppliers.

In conclusion, the consolidated entity remains focused on the E-Mobility sector while exploring new opportunities in the energy market. The consolidated entity's strategic product development priorities will continue to align with market demands, ensuring sustained growth and long-term success.
