DENVER – August 27, 2025 - Newmont Corporation (NYSE: NEM, TSX: NGT, ASX: NEM, PNGX: NEM) ("Newmont" or the "Company") today announced that Moody's Ratings ("Moody's") has upgraded Newmont's issuer credit rating to A3 from Baa1, with a stable outlook. The upgrade is supported by Newmont's improved credit profile, strengthened balance sheet, excellent liquidity position, and prudent financial management.

"The upgrade from Moody's underscores the strength of Newmont's balance sheet and our commitment to a disciplined, balanced approach to capital allocation," said Tom Palmer, Newmont's Chief Executive Officer. "Over the past several years, Newmont has significantly reduced gross debt, maintained a stable dividend framework, and advanced a capital allocation strategy designed to deliver long-term value. The Company's capital allocation priorities remain unchanged, balancing financial strength and flexibility with steady reinvestment in the business, while also delivering strong shareholder returns through regular dividends and share repurchases.
