Resignation of non-executive director

iSelect Limited (ASX:ISU) today announced the resignation of Mr Les Webb as a non-executive director of iSelect.

Les joined the iSelect board in February 2001 shortly after the business was established, and has made a significant contribution to the strategic direction and continued expansion of the company since that time.

Commenting on his departure Mr Webb said, "having been a non-executive director for 14 years I feel it is the right time for me to step aside and allow for further refresh of the Board."

"The Board has now evolved to a more conventional governance structure and with the appointment of Chris Knoblanche as independent non-executive Chairman, I feel the company is in good hands."

"It has been a fantastic journey and I leave with a feeling of great satisfaction for not only what has been achieved but for the very bright future ahead of iSelect," said Mr Webb.

Commenting on Mr Webb's departure, iSelect Chairman Chris Knoblanche said, "The Board and I thank Les for his hard work and determination over the last 14 years. Les contributed a great deal to iSelect during his tenure and we all wish him well for the future."
