Update on Roe Hills nickel sulphide drilling program

DDH1 to commence drill rig mobilisation next week; key targets being finalised

Mining Projects Group Limited (ASX: MPJ) is pleased to advise that its drilling contractor, DDH1 Drilling, has advised the Company that it has scheduled to commence mobilisation of a multipurpose RC\Diamond drill rig to the Company's Roe Hills nickel project next week.

With the addition of world-renowned komatiite nickel specialist and geoscientific consultant, Dr Robin Hill, to the Company's team (as announced earlier this week), the Company is currently finalising drill target selection and will announce its initial drill targets ahead of the commencement of drilling.

Mining Projects plans to undertake a program of up to 5000m of drilling at Roe Hills to test numerous high priority nickel sulphide targets.
