Event Announcement

Sydney – 12 November 2015 – Covata Limited (ASX:CVT) to host executive event and global product launch for the secure future of the Internet of Everything (IoE) and Cloud Computing in Sydney Australia alongside partner Cisco.

California based Cisco senior executive Pankaj Srivastava, VP Solutions and Platforms, will join Covata CEO Trent Telford to deep dive into the future of IoE and Cloud for Cisco, and the role data centric security will play.

IoE and Cloud Computing has the potential to disrupt almost every facet of our personal and professional lives. As big businesses, including industry leaders like Cisco, transform the way we connect with not only other people but also everyday devices, the way we protect the integrity and security of the data we create becomes paramount.

The requirement to protect the integrity and security of data in the cloud, and IoE environment was a core tenant of the 10-year OEM agreement between Cisco and Covata.

Global Product Launch of Covata Key-as-a-Service

Date: Wednesday 4th February 2016

Location: Sydney, Australia

The event will be the global launch of the next generation of the Covata Platform with the release of Covata Key-as-a-Service ahead of the wider launch at the RSA Conference in February in San Francisco.

Trent Telford, Covata CEO said, “since signing this agreement we have been working alongside the Cisco team to develop joint capability and market opportunities. This is the first public event for the investment and business community to gain insights into the future potential of this global partnership.”

The event and communications in the lead up to the event will provide key insights into how Covata and Cisco have partnered to secure these global initiatives. Whilst the event will be invitation only, key communication surrounding the event will be relayed to the market to keep investors informed.

Invitations will be sent over the course of the month.
