- (b) The company may do these things, in any manner permitted by the Corporations Act.
- (c) If under this constitution a person may do a particular act or thing, then the person does the act or thing at that person's discretion.
- (d) Subject to an express term to the contrary:
 - (1) if this constitution confers a power, then the person may exercise the power as necessary and for the period the person holds the office; and
 - (2) if this constitution imposes a duty, then the person must perform the duty as necessary and for the period the person holds the office.
- (e) If this constitution confers power on a person to delegate a function or power then the person may:
 - (1) delegate concurrently or to the exclusion of that person's performance or exercise of that function or power;

1.5 Payments

- (a) A dividend, bonus, return of capital or other distribution payable by the company in respect of a share may be paid by cheque drawn in favour of the intended recipient, by electronic funds transfer to an account nominated by the intended recipient or in any other manner determined by the directors. Any such payment will be at the risk of the intended recipient. Without limiting the generality of the foregoing, a payment in respect of a share may be made to the member in whose name the share is registered despite the occurrence of a transmission event in relation to that member and whether or not the company has notice of it.
- (b) Payments in respect of a share by the company may be made in Australian dollars or any other currency determined by the directors. The directors may determine to pay in different currencies to different members and may determine the appropriate exchange rate and the time of calculation to calculate the amount payable in the relevant currency. The determinations of the directors are, in the absence of manifest error, final.
- (c) The directors may determine that any payment by the company in respect of a share will only be made by electronic funds transfer to an account nominated by the intended recipient of a type approved by the directors. If no such account is nominated or an electronic funds transfer to a nominated account is rejected or refunded, the company may credit the amount payable to an account of the company to be held until the intended recipient nominates a valid account.
- (d) Where a member does not have a valid registered address or the company believes that a member is not known at the member's registered address, the company may credit an amount payable in respect of the member's shares to an account of the company to be held until the member claims the amount payable or nominates an account into which a payment may be made.

- (e) An amount credited to an account under rule 1.5(c) or (d) is to be treated as having been paid to the member at the time it is credited to that account. The company will not be a trustee of the money and no interest will accrue on the money.
- (f) If a cheque for an amount payable by the company in respect of a share is not presented for payment for 11 calendar months after issue or an amount is held in an account under rule 1.5(c) or (d) for 11 calendar months, the directors may reinvest the amount, after deducting reasonable expenses, into shares in the company on behalf of, and in the name of, the member concerned and may stop payment on the cheque. The shares may be acquired on market or by way of new issue at a price the directors accept is market price at the time. Any residual sum which arises from the reinvestment may be carried forward or donated to a charity on behalf of the member, as the directors decide. The company's liability to pay the relevant amount is discharged by an application under this rule 1.5(f).
- (g) The directors may do anything necessary or desirable (including executing any document) on behalf of the member to effect the application of an amount under rule 1.5(f). The directors may determine other rules to regulate the operation of rule 1.5(f) and may delegate their power under rule 1.5(f) or (g) to any person.

1.6 ASX Listing Rules compliance

If the company is admitted to the official list of ASX, the following applies:

- (a) Nothing contained in this constitution prevents an act being done that the ASX Listing Rules require to be done.
- (b) If the ASX Listing Rules require an act to be done or not to be done, authority is given for that act to be done or not to be done (as the case may be).
- (c) Where any shares in the capital of the company are at any time classified under the ASX Listing Rules or by ASX as restricted securities, then notwithstanding any other provision of this constitution or the terms of issue of the restricted securities:
 - (1) the restricted securities may not be sold, assigned, transferred or otherwise disposed of, and the company must not acknowledge, deal with, accept or register any sale, assignment, transfer or other disposal of those securities, during the escrow period in relation to those securities except as permitted by the ASX Listing Rules, ASX or restriction agreement in relation to those securities; and
 - (2) in the event of a breach of the ASX Listing Rules relating to the restricted securities, or the restriction agreement in relation to the restricted securities, the member holding the restricted securities will cease to be entitled to any dividends or other distributions and to any voting rights in respect of the restricted securities for so long as the breach subsists.
- (d) Each director must disclose to the company the notifiable interests of the director and changes to those notifiable interests in sufficient time to allow the company to meet its disclosure obligations under rule 3.19A of the ASX Listing Rules. The company is authorised to give that information to ASX:
 - (1) for the purposes of meeting its disclosure obligations under rule 3.19A of the ASX Listing Rules; and
 - (2) as agent for the director for the purposes of the director meeting his or her disclosure obligations under section 205G of the Corporations Act, and the company must do so promptly after receiving the information so that, if possible, the time limits for giving the information to ASX are met.

- (e) In this constitution, unless the context otherwise requires, a term used in a rule about a matter dealt with by a provision of the ASX Listing Rules has the same meaning as in that provision.

2. Share capital

2.1 Shares

- (a) Without prejudice to any special right conferred on a holder of a share or class of shares, the directors may issue, grant options for, or otherwise dispose of, shares in the company as the directors think fit.
- (b) The directors' discretion includes but is not limited to terms on:
 - (1) price, conditions and timing;
 - (2) a special right or restriction which may be preferred or deferred; and
 - (3) dividends, voting, return of capital and participation in the property of the company on a winding up.
- (c) The directors may differentiate between each holder of a partly paid share on:
 - (1) the amount of a call that member must pay; and
 - (2) the time the member must pay that amount.

2.2 Preference shares

- (a) The directors may issue preference shares including preference shares which are liable to be redeemed.
- (b) A preference share confers on its holder a right to receive a preferential dividend at the rate and on the basis decided by the directors under the terms of issue.
- (c) The preferential dividend is cumulative except to the extent the directors decide under the terms of issue.
- (d) A preference share confers on its holder the right to payment out of the profits of the company (or any other permitted source) of the preferential dividend in priority to the payment of any dividend on ordinary shares, and any other class of shares that the directors decide under the terms of issue.
- (e) A preference share confers on its holder the right in a winding up to payment in cash of:
 - (1) the amount of any dividend accrued at the date of the winding up but unpaid on the share; and
 - (2) any amount paid on the share;in priority to the payment of any amount on ordinary shares, and any other class of shares that the directors decide under the terms of issue.
- (f) If and to the extent that the directors decide under the terms of issue, a preference share may confer on its holder:
 - (1) in addition to the preferential dividend, a right to participate with the ordinary shares in any dividends payable on ordinary shares; and
 - (2) a right to a bonus issue or capitalisation of profits or any other amount otherwise available for distribution to members.
- (g) A preference share does not confer on its holder any right to participate in the profits or property of the company except as set out in this rule 2.2.

- (h) The holder of a preference share has the same right as the holder of an ordinary share to receive notice of, and a copy of any document to be laid before, a general meeting of the company and to attend the general meeting at which a resolution is proposed on which the holder is entitled to vote, and to attend the general meeting, but has no right to receive notice of, or a copy of, any document to be laid before, or to attend, any other general meeting of the company except to the extent the terms of issue of the preference share otherwise provided.
- (i) A preference share does not entitle its holder to vote at a general meeting of the company except to the extent the terms of issue permit the holder to vote in the following circumstances:
 - (1) During a period during which a dividend (or part of a dividend) in respect of the share is in arrears.
 - (2) On a proposal to reduce the company's share capital.
 - (3) On a resolution to approve the terms of a buy-back agreement.
 - (4) On a proposal that affects rights attached to the share.
 - (5) On a proposal to wind up the company.
 - (6) On a proposal for the disposal of the whole of the company's property, business and undertaking.
 - (7) During the winding up of the company.

Where the ASX Listing Rules require the holder of a preference share to be entitled to vote in any of the above circumstances, a preference share must not be issued on terms which preclude the holder from voting in that circumstance whilst the company is admitted to the official list.

- (j) Where a preference share does confer on its holder the right to vote at a general meeting, the voting right is the same, and determined in the same way, as the voting right attached to an ordinary share.
- (k) Preference shares may be convertible into ordinary shares on a basis decided by the directors under the terms of issue. Unless the terms of issue otherwise provide, a convertible preference share may be converted into an ordinary share by the company notifying the holder of the conversion. Upon the company giving the holder notification of the conversion, or if a later date is specified as the date of conversion, on that later date, the convertible preference share will be converted into, and will be reclassified and known as, an ordinary share. The conversion will be effected by, and will result in, the rights attached to the convertible preference share being varied to be the same as the rights attached to an ordinary share, not by redemption and new issue or any other cancellation of the share or creation of a new share. The holder of a convertible preference share that is to be converted must return the certificate for the share (if any) to the company for cancellation as soon as reasonably practicable after being requested to do so, but is not required to return the certificate earlier than 3 business days before the proposed date of conversion. The conversion may be deferred until the company receives the certificate.
- (l) A redeemable preference share may be redeemable on a basis decided by the directors under the terms of issue. The holder of a redeemable preference share that is to be redeemed must return the certificate for the share (if any) to the company for cancellation as soon as reasonably practicable after being requested to do so, but is not required to return the certificate earlier than 3 business days before the proposed date of redemption. Payment of the amount payable for redemption of the share may be deferred until the company receives the certificate.

- (m) Subject to the Corporations Act and this constitution, all rights and restrictions of a preference share issued by the company may be decided by the directors and will be governed by the terms of issue, and provided they have been disclosed to the subscriber for the share before its issue will bind the subscriber and all subsequent holders of the share.

2.3 Issue of shares of same class

Subject to any special right conferred on a holder of a share or class of shares, the directors may issue shares of the same class as an existing class of shares and such an issue is not to be considered to constitute a variation of the rights of the holders of shares in the existing class.

2.4 Joint holders of shares

- (a) If 2 or more persons are registered as the holders of a share, then they hold it as joint tenants with rights of survivorship subject to this rule 2.4.
- (b) A joint holder of a share and that person's legal personal representative is liable severally as well as jointly for each payment, including a call, which ought to be made in respect of the share.
- (c) On the death of any 1 joint holder of a share, a survivor is the only person the company recognises as having any title to the share.
- (d) A dividend, bonus, return of capital or other distribution or payment in respect of a jointly held share may be made to the joint holder of the share first named in the register of members or another joint holder notified in writing to the company for this purpose by all joint holders, and any 1 joint holder may give an effective receipt for any such distribution or payment.
- (e) Delivery of a certificate for a jointly held share to any 1 joint holder of the share is sufficient, and taken to be, delivery to all joint holders.
- (f) The company is not bound to register more than 3 persons as joint holders of a share except in the case of persons jointly entitled to be registered as the holders of a share following a transmission event.

2.5 Equitable and other claims

Subject to the law and an express rule in this constitution, the company is entitled to treat the registered holder of a share as the absolute owner of that share, and is not, even if the company has notice:

- (a) obliged to recognise a person as holding a share upon any trust; or
- (b) obliged to recognise any equitable, contingent, future or partial claim to or interest in a share on the part of any other person.

2.6 Employee share plans and employee option plans

The directors may:

- (a) implement an employee share plan or employee option plan or both; and
- (b) amend, suspend or terminate any employee share plan or employee option plan they implement.

3. Calls, forfeiture, indemnities, lien and surrender

3.1 Calls

- (a) Subject to this constitution and to the terms of issue of a share, the directors may call upon a member for any money unpaid on a share which is not by the terms of issue, payable at a fixed time.
- (b) The directors may require a member to pay a call by instalments.
- (c) The company must give the member at least 14 days notice to pay a call.
- (d) The notice must specify:
 - (1) the amount that the member must pay; and
 - (2) the time and the place of payment.
- (e) Each member must pay the amount stated in the notice in the manner set out in the notice.
- (f) A call is made when the directors pass the resolution authorising the call.
- (g) The directors may revoke or postpone a call.
- (h) The directors may extend the time for payment.
- (i) A call is valid, even if:
 - (1) a member does not receive a notice of a call; or
 - (2) the company omits to give a member a notice of a call.
- (j) If a person does not pay a sum called for a share in full by the due date, then the person must pay:
 - (1) interest on the sum which is unpaid, from and including the due date for payment to the date of actual payment; and
 - (2) any costs, expenses or damages, which the company incurs for the non-payment or late payment of the sum.
- (k) If under the terms of issue, a sum unpaid on a share becomes payable on issue or at a fixed date, then:
 - (1) the sum is payable as if the company has duly made and notified a call; and
 - (2) the person must pay the sum on the date on which it is payable under the terms of issue of the share.

3.2 Proceedings for recovery of calls

- (a) The following is conclusive evidence of a debt in any proceedings for the recovery of a call amount, interest, costs or expenses that the company incurs following the non-payment or late payment of a call:
 - (1) the name of the defendant is entered in the register as the holder or 1 of the holders of the share for which the call is claimed;
 - (2) the resolution making the call is recorded in the minute book; and
 - (3) notice of the call was duly given to the defendant.

- (b) It is not necessary to prove any matter including the appointment of the directors, who made the call.
- (c) In this rule 3.2 a defendant may include but is not limited to a person against whom the company alleges a set-off or counter-claim.

3.3 Payments in advance of calls

- (a) The directors may accept from a member an amount unpaid on a share, even if the company has not called that amount.
- (b) The directors may authorise the company to pay interest upon an amount accepted under rule 3.3(a):
 - (1) until the amount becomes payable; and
 - (2) at a rate agreed between the directors and the member paying the amount.
- (c) The directors may repay to a member any of the amount accepted under rule 3.3(a).

3.4 Forfeiture of partly paid shares

- (a) If a member fails to pay the whole of a call or instalment of a call by the time appointed for payment, then the directors may serve a notice on that member requiring payment of:
 - (1) the amount which is unpaid;
 - (2) any interest that has accrued; and
 - (3) all costs, expenses or damages that the company has incurred because of the non-payment or late payment of the call or instalment.
- (b) In the notice, the directors may:
 - (1) name a further day and a place at which the member must pay the amount payable; and
 - (2) state, that if the member does not pay the whole of the amount as required, then the member is liable to forfeit the shares for which the company made the call.
- (c) The directors must give a member at least 14 days after the date of service to pay.
- (d) If the member does not comply with the notice, then the directors may resolve to forfeit any share for which the notice was given:
 - (1) at any time after the day named in the notice; but
 - (2) before the member pays.
- (e) If a member forfeits a share, then the forfeiture includes all dividends, interest and other money payable by the company for the forfeited share which is not paid before the forfeiture.
- (f) If the company forfeits a share, then it must:
 - (1) give notice of the resolution to the member in whose name the share stood immediately before the forfeiture; and
 - (2) enter the forfeiture and the date of forfeiture in the register of members.
- (g) The forfeiture is valid even if the company fails to give the notice or to make the entry.
- (h) A forfeited share becomes the property of the company.

- (i) The directors may sell, reissue or otherwise dispose of the share as they think fit.
- (j) The directors may reissue or dispose of the share, with or without any money paid on the share by any former holder being credited as paid up.

- (d) Subject to this constitution and to any rights or restrictions attached to a share or class of shares or to the terms of any dividend selection plan established by the directors, all dividends on shares are to be paid in proportion to the number of shares held by members except that:
 - (1) a partly paid share will only entitle the holder to a fraction of the dividend payable on a fully paid share equal to the proportion of the total amounts paid and payable on the share which have been paid; and
 - (2) if dividends are determined by the directors to be paid in respect of a specified period and if the directors also determine that the dividends on any shares are to be further apportioned according to when amounts are paid on those shares during the specified period, an amount which is paid on a relevant share during the specified period will only entitle the holder of the share to a fraction of the dividend that would otherwise be payable in respect of that amount equal to the proportion of the specified period remaining as at the date of payment of that amount.
- (e) For the purposes of determining the above fractions:
 - (1) an amount paid on a share in advance of a call or credited on a share otherwise than for value must be ignored; and
 - (2) if under the terms of issue of a share, the consideration for the share is or includes the provision of property or services or some other non-monetary consideration, the value of the non-monetary consideration provided or to be provided as determined by the directors will be taken to be the amount paid or payable (as the case may be) on the share.
- (f) The company must not pay interest on any dividend.
- (g) The directors may fix a record date for a dividend.
- (h) The company must pay a dividend to the person who is registered as the holder of the share on the record date or, if one has not been fixed, on the date payment of the dividend is to be sent to members.
- (i) The company must pay the dividend on the date fixed for payment of the dividend (if any).
- (j) The directors when determining a dividend is payable may:

 - (B) to the remaining shareholders or in respect of the remaining shares, wholly or partly out of any other particular fund or reserve or out of profits derived from any other particular source or generally.
- (k) The company may deduct from any dividend payable to a member:

- (1) all sums of money presently payable by the member to the company; and
 - (2) apply the amount deducted in or towards satisfaction of the money owing.

 - (4) otherwise available for distribution to members
- and may also resolve that the capitalised amount be paid, applied or otherwise distributed to or for the benefit of members.
- (b) Subject to any rights or restrictions attached to a share or class of shares or to the terms of any dividend selection plan established by the directors, a capitalised amount under rule 4.2(a) which is to be distributed to or for the benefit of members, must be distributed in the same proportions in which members would be entitled to receive the amount were it a dividend.
- (c) The directors may resolve that all or part of the capitalised amount is to be applied:
- (1) to pay in full a share or security that the company intends to issue to a member;
 - (2) to pay an amount unpaid on a share or security of the company which a member holds; or
 - (3) a combination of these;
- and the member must accept this application in full satisfaction of the member's interest in the capitalised amount.
- (d) Rules 4.1(g)- to (l) apply to the distribution of a capitalised amount as if it were a dividend.

4.3 Additional powers

- (a) To give effect to a resolution of directors or members authorising or approving the payment of a dividend or the making of any other distribution (whether of profits or capital or otherwise) or the capitalisation of any amount, the directors may:

- (c) Any agreement made between the directors and an authorised person is effective and binding on all members concerned.

6.7 Decisions at general meetings

- (a) Subject to a resolution which as a matter of law requires a special majority:
 - (1) a question arising at a general meeting is decided by a majority of votes cast by the members present; and
 - (2) a majority vote is for all purposes, a decision of the members.
- (b) In the case of an equality of votes upon any proposed resolution the chair of the meeting has a second or casting vote.
- (c) Subject to rule 6.7(d), a resolution put to the vote of a general meeting must be decided on a show of hands.
- (d) Either the chair or a member who is present and can vote on the resolution, may demand a poll:
 - (1) before the vote is taken; or
 - (2) before or immediately after the declaration of the result of the show of hands.
- (e) A demand for a poll does not prevent the continuance of a general meeting for the transaction of any business other than the question on which the poll has been demanded.
- (f) The chair may declare the result of a vote decided on a show of hands.
- (g) Unless a poll is duly demanded:
 - (1) the chair's declaration and an entry to that effect into the minute book is conclusive evidence of the result; and
 - (2) further proof of the number or proportion of the votes recorded in favour of or against the resolution is not required.
- (h) If a poll is duly demanded at a general meeting, the meeting must conduct the poll as the chair directs.
- (i) Subject to rule 6.7(j), the chair may direct that the poll be taken in any manner and either at once or after an interval or adjournment.

- (a) Subject to this constitution and to any rights or restrictions attached to a share or class of shares, at a general meeting:
 - (1) on a show of hands, every person present who is a member or a proxy, attorney or representative of a member has 1 vote; and
 - (2) on a poll, every person present who is a member or a proxy, attorney or representative of a member has 1 vote for each share the member holds and which entitles the member to vote, except for partly paid shares, each of which confers on a poll only a fraction of 1 vote equal to the proportion of the total amounts paid and payable on the share which have been paid.

- (b) For the purposes of determining the above fraction:
 - (1) an amount paid on a share in advance of a call or credited on a share otherwise than for value must be ignored; and
 - (2) if under the terms of issue of a share, the consideration for the share is or includes the provision of property or services or some other non-monetary consideration, the value of the non-monetary consideration provided or to be provided as determined by the directors will be taken to be the amount paid or payable (as the case may be) on the share.
- (c) If a person present at a general meeting represents more than 1 member:
 - (1) on a show of hands, the person is entitled to 1 vote only despite the number of members the person represents;
 - (2) that vote is cast for all the members the person represents; and
 - (3) the person must not exercise that vote in a way which would contravene any directions given to the person in any instrument appointing the person as a proxy or attorney.
- (d) A joint holder may vote at any meeting in person or by proxy, attorney or representative as if that person was the sole holder.
- (e) If more than 1 joint holder tenders a vote, then the vote of the holder named first in the register is accepted to the exclusion of any other.
- (f) The parent or guardian of an infant member may vote at any general meeting upon producing evidence of the relationship or of the appointment as the directors may require.
- (g) A vote by a parent or guardian of an infant member is accepted to the exclusion of the vote of the infant member.
- (h) A person entitled to a share as a result of a transmission event may vote at a general meeting as if that person were the registered holder of the share if, before the meeting, the directors:
 - (1) admit that person's right to vote at that meeting for the share; or
 - (2) are satisfied that person has a right to be registered as the holder of, or to transfer, the share under rule 5.4(c).
- (i) A vote tendered by a person under rule 6.8(h) is accepted to the exclusion of the vote of the registered holder of the share.
- (j) A member is entitled to vote at a general meeting only if all calls and other sums of money, presently payable by that member for shares in the company, are paid.
- (k) A person must raise an objection to the qualification of a person to vote at a general meeting:
 - (1) before or at the meeting at which the vote is given; and
 - (2) by referring it to the chair of the meeting.
- (l) The chair's decision about a person's qualification to vote is final.
- (m) A vote the chair allows under rule 6.8(h) is valid for all purposes.

- (b) A proxy, attorney or representative may, but need not be a member.
- (c) A proxy, attorney or representative may be appointed for:
 - (1) all or any number of general meetings; or
 - (2) a particular general meeting.
- (d) Subject to the Corporations Act and to the terms of appointment, an appointment confers on a proxy, attorney or representative the same rights as the appointor:
 - (1) to agree to a meeting to which the appointment applies, being convened by shorter notice than is required by the Corporations Act or by this constitution;
 - (2) to attend and speak at a meeting to which the appointment applies;
 - (3) to vote on any procedural motion at a meeting to which the appointment applies, including any motion to elect the chair, to vacate the chair or to adjourn the meeting;
 - (4) to vote on any other motion or resolution (but only to the extent allowed by the appointment); and
 - (5) to demand or join in demanding a poll at a meeting to which the appointment applies.
- (e) Subject to the Corporations Act and to the terms of appointment, if the proxy, attorney or representative may vote on a proposed resolution, then the appointment also confers authority to vote on any amendment moved to the proposed resolution and on any motion that the proposed resolution not be put or any similar motion.
- (f) Subject to the Corporations Act and to the terms of appointment, if an appointment confers authority to attend, speak, vote or do anything else at a meeting that is to be held at a specified time or venue and the meeting is rescheduled or adjourned or changed to another venue, then the appointment confers authority to do the same things at the rescheduled or adjourned meeting or meeting at the new venue.
- (g) If a member appoints 2 proxies or attorneys:
 - (1) and the appointment does not specify the proportion or number of the member's votes each proxy or attorney may exercise, each proxy or attorney may exercise half of the member's voting rights; and
 - (2) neither person may vote on a show of hands.
- (h) An appointment of a proxy or attorney may specify the way the proxy or attorney is to vote on a particular resolution.
- (i) If the appointment does specify the way the proxy or attorney is to vote on a particular resolution:

- (1) the proxy or attorney need not vote on a show of hands, but if the proxy or attorney does so, the proxy or attorney must vote that way;
- (2) if the proxy or attorney has 2 or more appointments that specify different ways to vote on the resolution, the proxy or attorney must not vote on a show of hands;
- (3) if the proxy or attorney is the chair of the meeting at which the resolution is voted on, the proxy or attorney must vote on a poll, and must vote that way, and
- (4) if the proxy or attorney is not the chair, the proxy or attorney need not vote on a poll, but if the proxy or attorney does so, the proxy or attorney must vote that way.

provided that if the proxy or attorney is also a member, nothing in this rule affects the way the person can cast any votes the person has as a member.

- (j) An appointment of a proxy or attorney is valid if it is signed, or otherwise authenticated in a manner approved by the directors, by the member making the appointment and contains such information and is in such form as may be required by the directors. Otherwise, the appointment is not required to contain any particular information or be in any particular form.
- (k) An appointment of a proxy or attorney for a meeting of members will only be effective if:
 - (1) the appointment; and
 - (2) if the authority is signed, or otherwise authenticated in a manner approved by the directors, by the appointor's attorney, the authority under which the appointment was is signed or authenticated or a certified copy of the authority;

- (n) A vote at a meeting by a proxy or attorney is valid despite:
 - (1) a transmission event having occurred in relation to the appointor;
 - (2) the appointor revoking the instrument of appointment or the authority under which the instrument was executed; or

- (3) the transfer of the share for which the instrument was given not having been registered; provided the company does not receive written notice of such an event before the meeting commenced.

- (o) The appointment of a proxy or attorney is not revoked by the appointor attending and taking part in the general meeting.
- (p) The proxy or attorney must not vote, as the appointor's proxy or attorney, if the appointor votes on a resolution.
- (q) Where an instrument intended for the appointment of a proxy does not specify the name of a proxy the instrument is not for that reason invalid and is to be taken to be given in favour of the chair of the meeting.

The suspended director may not take part in the business or affairs of the company during the period of suspension. The suspension may be terminated at any time by a resolution passed by a majority of all directors at a meeting of directors specifically convened for the purpose of considering termination of the suspension. The suspension will terminate at the end of 14 days from the date of the suspension unless within that period notice of a general meeting of the company to consider a resolution to remove the director from office is despatched to members and the meeting is convened to be held within 35 days from the date of despatch.
