Covata and Cisco Event Videos

SYDNEY – 16 February 2016 – Covata Limited (ASX:CVT) (Covata or the Company) has published the keynote and panel presentations from its highly successful “The Future of the ‘Internet of Everything’ and Security” event in Sydney on February 3rd with its partner Cisco.

Pankaj Srivastava, San Jose CA based Cisco executive, walked attendees through the size and scale of future opportunities in the Internet of Everything (IoE) space, while Covata CEO Trent Telford unveiled the Covata Key-as-a-Service (KaaS) which along with two newly lodged patents is positioned to revolutionise the way data is protected at scale.

Phillip Dunkelberger, Covata Board Member and CEO of Nok Nok Labs, joined Pankaj and Trent on stage for a discussion on the technology and broader industry.

The US Cisco team were joined by Cisco Australia’s CTO Kevin Bloch, who will be working with Covata over the coming months to bring data security into their IoT Innovation Centers around the country.
