Strategic and Market Outlook

Market Outlook

Market has adapted but uncertainty remains

- Record residential volumes during H1 FY21 and into H2 FY21 supported by Government initiatives. Whilst the timing and impact of the withdrawal of these initiatives and the extent that demand has been dragged forward is unclear, we remain positive about the outlook for the industry and the willingness of the Government to respond further if necessary
- AFG Securities COVID-19 related hardship continues to improve. There has been a disciplined focus to manage these cases, with payment deferral hardship arrangements now 0.02% and interest only arrangements 0.57% of the book
- RBA have indicated that the cash rate is not expected to increase for at least the next 3 years or until unemployment and the labour market return
- A conducive RMBS funding market has been maintained in the half and cost of funds remain competitive as a result of reductions in the BBSW rate

Connective merger

- Court case and closing arguments are complete. Judge retired to consider decision

Strategic Outlook

Brokers adapting to changing industry

- During the pandemic brokers have grown their market share of the mortgage industry. Many of these customers will not return to bank direct
- Brokers are well placed to adapt to the new ways of assisting customers remotely
- Government initiatives have contributed to greater market share for the four majors during COVID-19 period. Brokers are important to smaller lenders, the competition and choice they bring as they expand their credit appetite

Remain well positioned in the industry and able to adapt to market changes

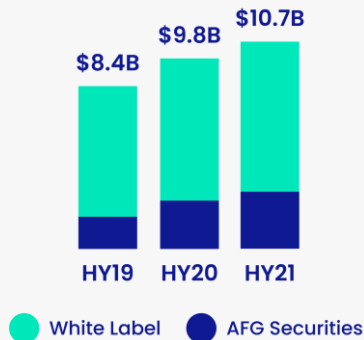

- Well capitalised, with a strong balance sheet with no debt and strong brand. Unrestricted cash, trail book assets, financial assets and sub-ordinated capital totaling $267 million
- Strong cash flow generation of the business model including annuity style trail revenue from existing trail book
- New technology refresh represents significant focus on improving technology to support brokers and customers as they embrace the new ways of working
- AFG remains committed to our earning diversification strategy and focus on further organic or inorganic growth initiatives
- Invested in growth opportunities including technology for brokers and customers, Thinktank manufacturing, and Mortgage Advice Bureau – a different offering for brokers
- Existing warehouses restructured and rolled over. AOFM already refinanced out of one

AFG Home Loans

- Trail book increased 9% to $10.7 billion
- Settlement volumes were down 6% to $1.47 billion. Changing mix towards White Label funders as AFG Securities reduced its credit appetite during the initial stages of COVID-19
- Since the funding market has stabilised, there has been a measured increase in credit appetite and mix back towards AFG Securities during H1 FY21

AFGHL Portfolio

AFGHL Settlements

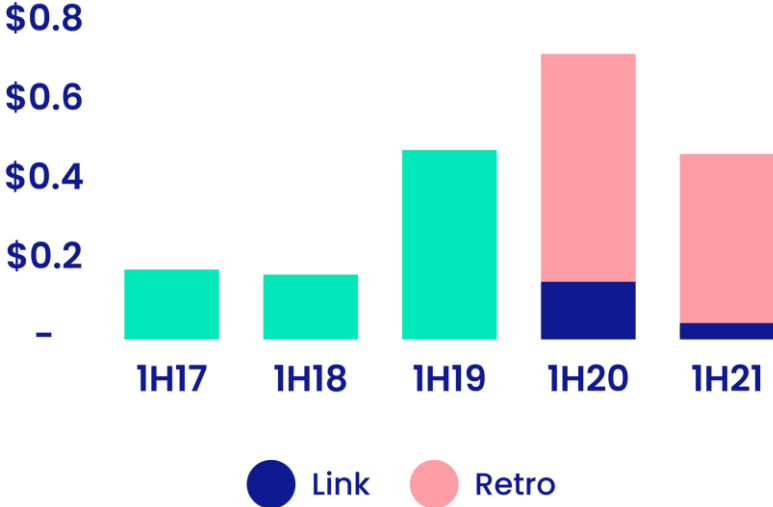

Funding obtained directly by AFG

AFG Securities

- Settlements of $446 million, a decrease of 35% with the loan book increasing 18% to $2.96 billion compared to December 2019 and 2% higher than June 2020
- Following measured slow down of activity in April 2020 during COVID-19 pandemic, a re-establishment of credit appetites have been implemented with December and January volumes in line with prior year
- The AFG Securities proposition to brokers and their customers remains with fast turnaround times, consistent credit decisioning and importantly competitive products

Underlying profit 41% above H1 FY20 excluding change in value of future trailing commissions

1. Discount rates once set are not adjusted during the life of the loan. The spread in discount rate captures loans settled in previous financial years as well as the current financial year
2. The percentage paid to brokers is fixed by the terms of their respective agreement with the Group. As a consequence, management does not expect changes to the percentage paid to brokers to be reasonably possible

Other Income

- Service fees have increased 8% in H1 FY21 including broker services such as compliance, PI and marketing services
- Sponsorship and conferencing activity was particularly high in H1 FY19 and H1 FY20 due to timing
- H1 FY17 included Volume Bonus Income of $1.6 million which have since been removed from the industry

January 2021 Trading

- Residential lodgements up 28% on January 2020 overall to $4.8 billion with settlements of $3.7 billion
- AFG Home Loans lodgements up 4% on January 2020
- AFG Securities lodgements were 3% higher than January 2020 while settlements were 34% below on a comparatively softer pipeline
- Positive growth in Residential volumes in all states
- Despite various state lockdown periods, brokers around the country have maintained high levels of activity and are the preferred channel to access home loans

Comparison of January Lodgements

January 2021 change on January 2020

In Conclusion

Positive result in H1 FY21 with 41% growth in Underlying NPAT demonstrating the ongoing success of the earnings diversification strategy and the broker channel increasingly being the preferred means for Australian consumers to access home loans products

The Residential mortgage sector has performed strongly during the COVID-19 pandemic, with Government initiatives assisting the market including first home buyers to drive record lodgement volumes

Whilst the timing and impact of the withdrawal of these Government initiatives and the extent that demand has been dragged forward is unclear, we remain positive about the outlook for the industry and the willingness of the Government to respond further if necessary

Following initial uncertainty in the funding market, AFG is now well positioned to continue to expand. AFG Securities continues to grow the loan book, representing a stable earnings platform for future years

AFG is delivering a technology refresh to assist brokers effectively and efficiently deliver competition and choice to customers

Industry advocacy remains important as the broker channel is systematically important to competition in residential lending. Continuing to advocate for valuable regulation and compliance to support borrowers and maintain competition

With a well capitalised and strong balance sheet, a considered approach to lending and balance sheet protection will continue. AFG is well positioned in the industry with the ability to adapt to uncertain and changing market conditions
