5th JULY 2021

Exploration Update – Gemini Project

Canada-focused uranium exploration company, 92 Energy Limited (“92 Energy” or “the Company”) (ASX: 92E) provides the following update regarding its upcoming drill program at the Gemini Project in the Athabasca Basin, Northern Saskatchewan, Canada.

Exploration Update

As per the ASX Announcement dated 9 June 2021, 92E will shortly be undertaking a northern hemisphere summer drill program on the southern region of its Gemini Project in the Athabasca Basin, Saskatchewan. This drill program will be helicopter-assisted and consist of 2,200 metres of drilling, equating to approximately 12-15 drill holes depending on the depth of individual holes drilled. The Company can confirm that drilling is due to commence the week commencing 19 July 2021.

The VTEM survey which we have flown over the Gemini and Tower Projects is now complete. The Company is currently in the process of analysing the results on the northern portion of Gemini and Tower. Once this analysis is complete the Company will inform the market of those results

Wildfires in Canada

The Company notes there are several wildfires affecting regional Canada, including northern Saskatchewan. Whilst these wildfires do not currently pose a threat to the Company’s Gemini Project, we are continually monitoring the situation and taking precautions to ensure the safety of our staff and contractors. We will update the market if there are any material changes to the situation.

Authorised for ASX release by the Board of 92 Energy Limited.
