Strong Q3, 2021 - Positive Cash Flow from Operations of A$242,000, compared to Deficit of A$331,000 in previous Quarter iCandy Interactive Ltd ("iCandy" or the "Company") is pleased to provide a summary of its activities for the quarter ended 30 September 2021 ("Quarter").

In addition to the summary below, the Company has continued its close focus on the assessment of business growth opportunities, both organic and inorganic.

With a strong cash balance, the Company is well placed to continue with its in-house development pipeline whilst at the same time aggressively seeking value-adding acquisitions or partnerships.

1. Claw Stars records A$299,570 in Revenues within first 14 days

In July 2021, iCandy announced that its game, Claw Stars, recorded A$299,570 in revenues within the first two weeks of its global launch. Engagement rate, measured by Day-3 Retention Rate, stood at 25%.

Claw Stars is the first iCandy game to focus on player-to-player interactivity, with multiplayer features. Claw Stars boasted both higher revenues and retention rate during its initial 14 days as compared to iCandy's previous hit game, Masketeers.

2. iCandy and Lemon Sky Studios joint venture game studio - Sky Candy

In September 2021, iCandy had hosted an investor conference call to provide updates on Sky Candy. Sky Candy is a joint venture game studio with world leading game art and animation studio, Lemon Sky Studios.

Lemon Sky Studios has an impressive portfolio of projects, including StarCraft: Remastered, Command & Conquer Remastered, Marvel's Avengers, Marvel's Spider-man, Warcraft 3: Reforged, amongst many others.

The company expects near AAA quality art and animation game style. Sky Candy had so far developed an extensive and appealing library of environment, character (pictured below), character attributes and animation models. iCandy looks forward to a playable alpha version soon.

3. Socially integrative hyper-casual games - Nextgamer

In September 2021, iCandy had hosted an investor conference call to provide updates on Nextgamer. The company announced the deal to acquire Nextgamer in March 2021 and the deal was completed in the same month. Nextgamer is a platform for hyper-casual games.

Hyper-casual games feature a rapidly growing gaming trend which offers a shallow learning curve and hence games which are "instant play". Nextgamer will add an additional business segment and hence revenue stream for iCandy going forward.

4. Acquisition of a significant shareholding in ASX-listed Mighty Kingdom (ASX: MKL)

In September 2021, iCandy had announced the acquisition of 11,781,362 shares, or 7.78% of the ordinary share capital in ASX-listed game development company Mighty Kingdom Ltd. ("MKL").

The acquisition was completed at A$0.135 per MKL ordinary share, costing a total of A$1.59 million and was funded internally by iCandy's cash reserves.

The company viewed the acquisition of a significant stake in MKL as a compelling value opportunity to shareholders based on the attractive valuations of ASX-listed gaming companies vis-à-vis regional peers.

Further, iCandy is of the opinion that potential business synergies can be explored with MKL going forward.

5. iCandy undertakes an on market share buy-back

In September 2021, iCandy had announced an on market share buy-back where the Company had stated its intention to buy back up to 36,000,000 ordinary fully paid shares of iCandy.

Between 6 October 2021 and 27 October 2021, the Company had successfully bought back 1,151,301 ordinary fully paid shares of iCandy at an average price per share of A$0.09278.

The rationale for the share buy-back centres on the Board's view that the Company's share price does not accurately reflect the underlying value of the Company's assets and growth prospects, amidst a global gaming market that has experienced enormous expansion.

The mobile gaming sector globally continues to experience high growth. As the world continues to digitise, the opportunities to develop and distribute high quality gaming experiences is expected to increase, and the Board of Directors of iCandy believe the Company is well positioned to participate further in this expansion.
