We live in a time of uncertainty

The integration of systems, processes & technologies via digital transformation is the key to overcoming an array of ever-evolving challenges.

The power of integration

We're focused on helping enterprises manage complexity in an ever changing world via INTEGRATEDXR™ based solutions.

Digital Transformation represents a huge opportunity for INTEGRATEDXR™

Extended Reality (XR) is an emerging umbrella term encompassing immersive technologies like AR, VR and 'mixed' reality.

The XR market was valued at over 26B USD in 2020 and is expected to exceed a staggering $460B USD by 2026.

The INTEGRATEDXR™ Pillars

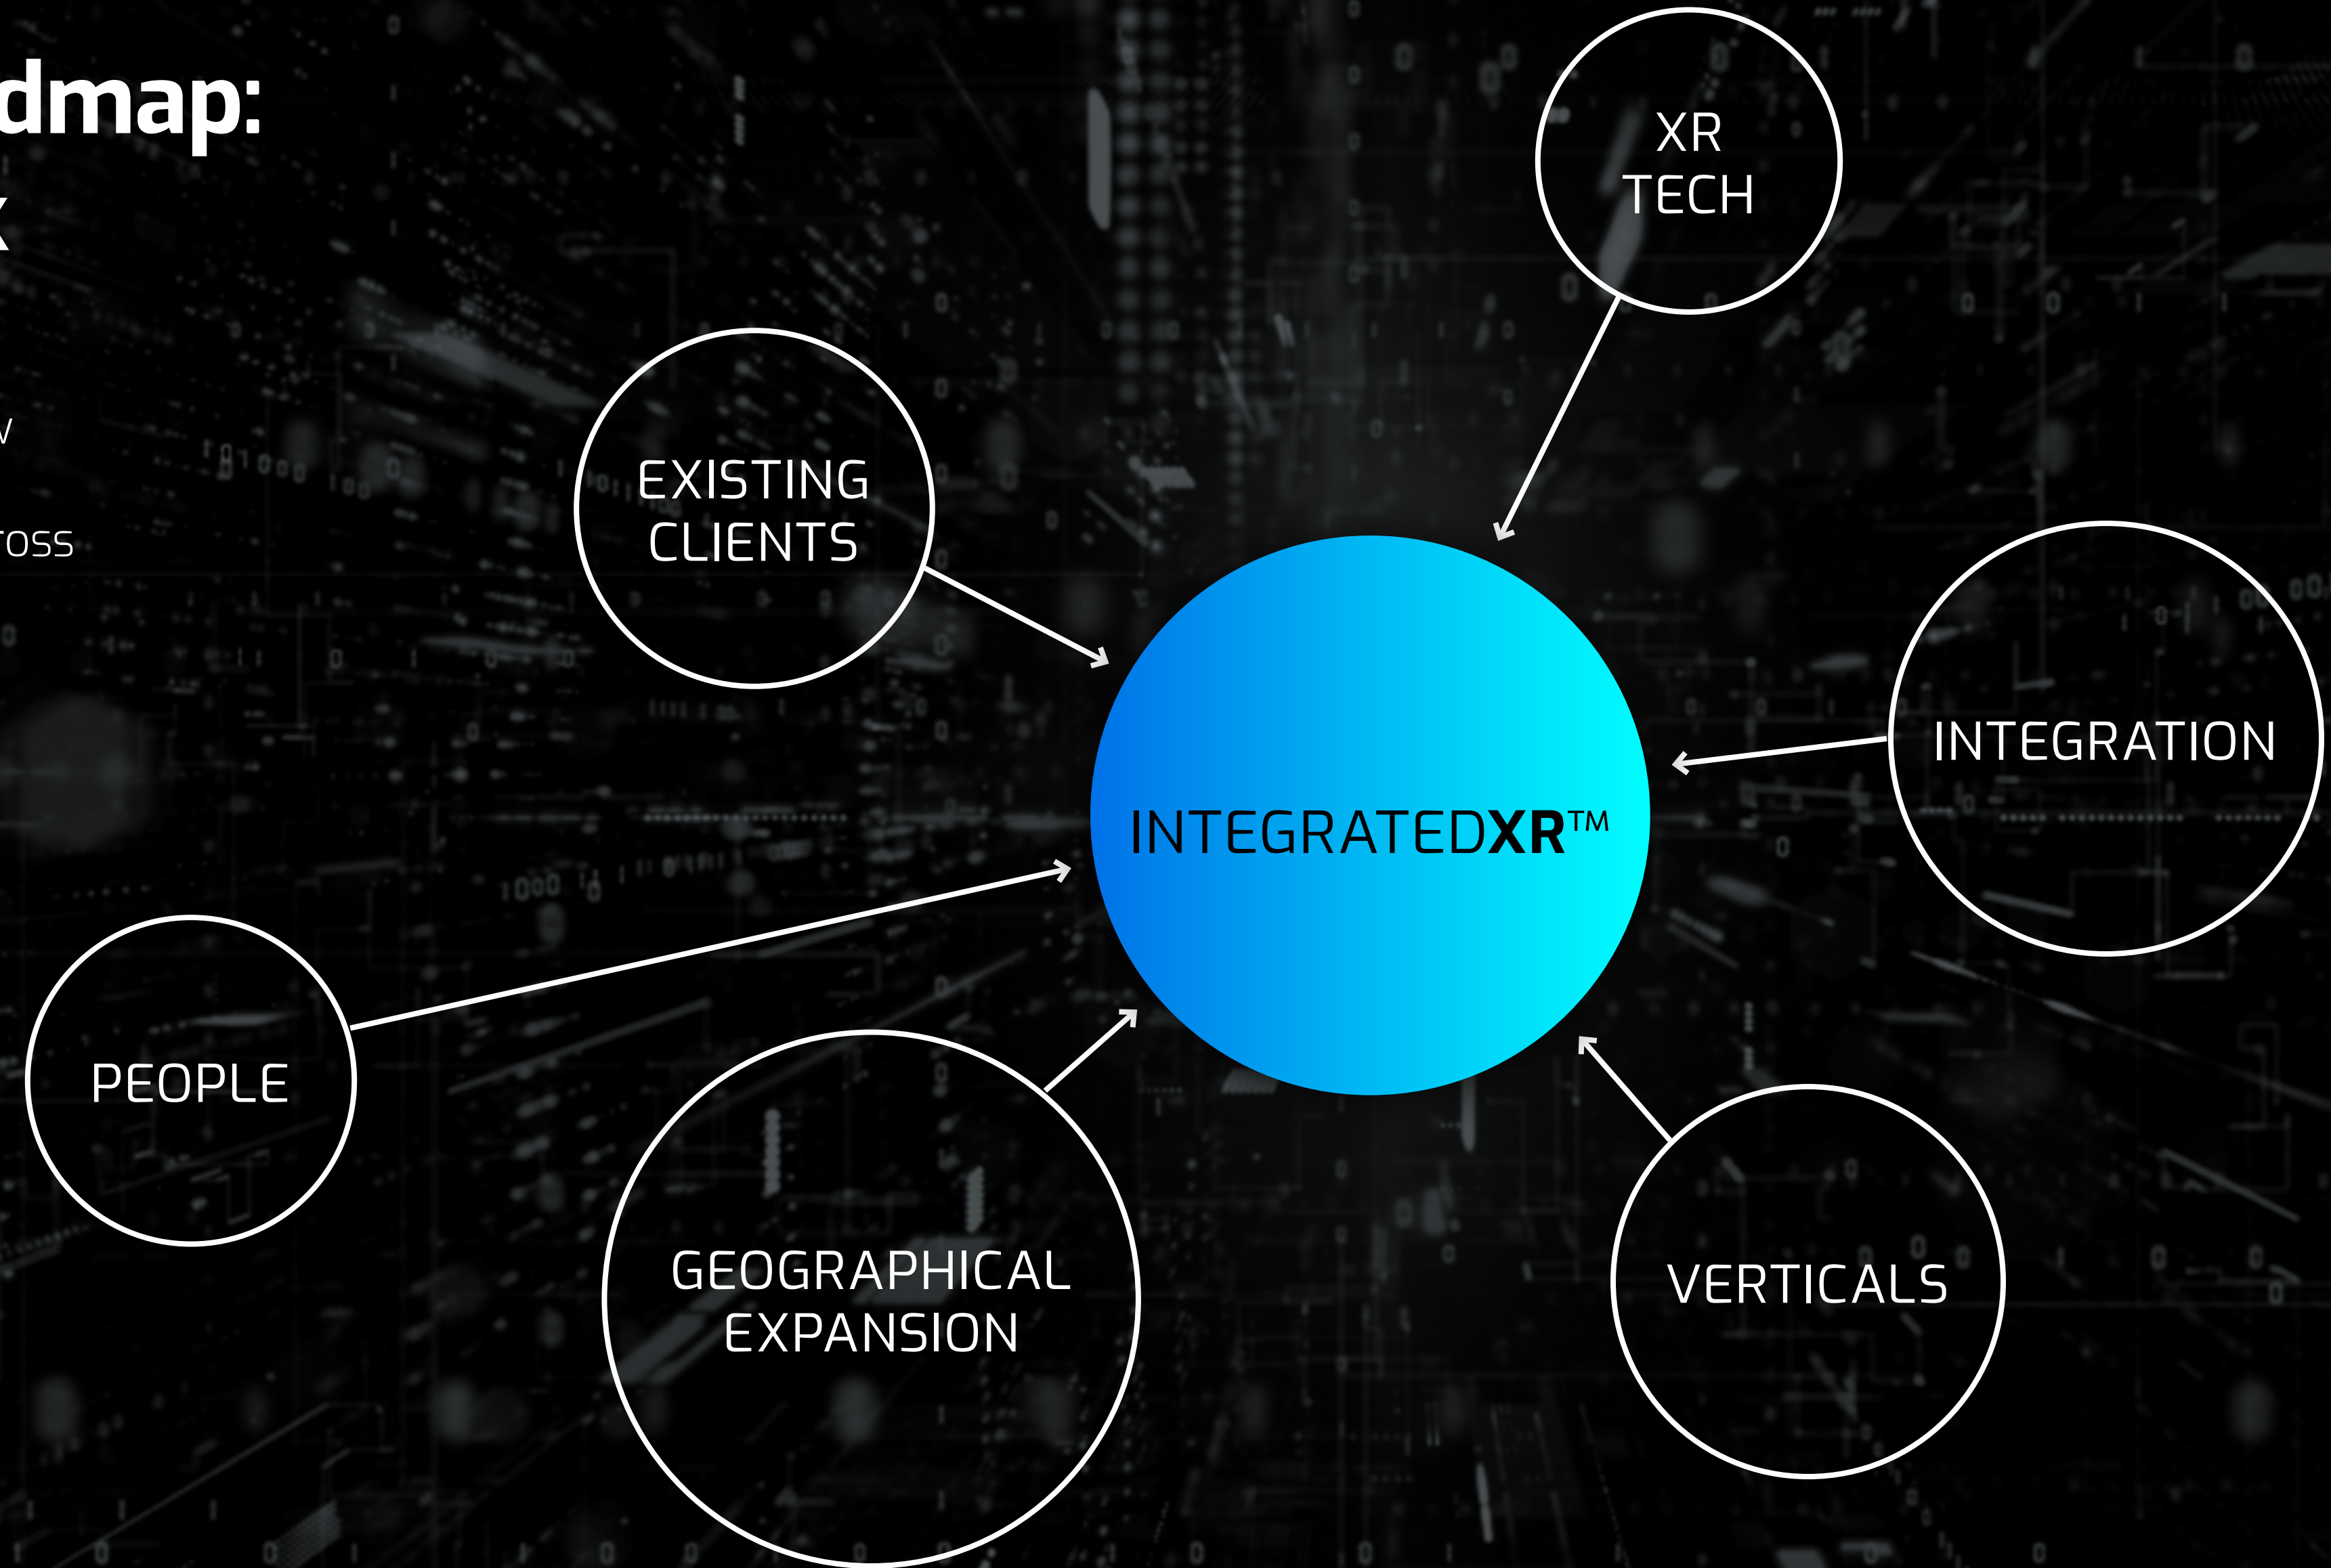

Drive adoption of core XR solutions.

2022 - 2023 Roadmap: Leading the Pack

Strategic acquisitions will unlock new market opportunities, accelerate INTEGRATEDXR™ organic growth across verticals, markets, and create exponential synergies.

2022 - 2023 Roadmap: Leading the Pack

Strategic acquisitions will unlock new market opportunities and accelerate INTEGRATEDXR™ organic growth across existing verticals and markets.

2022 - 2023 Roadmap: XR Technologies

The XR market is highly fragmented, comprising of small players operating in niche market segments.

To capitalize on this market opportunity, Vection Technologies seeks to aggregate these smaller players to access:

- Key vertical technologies.
- Highly specialised XR development resources.
- Established customer base to upsell and cross-sell.

2022 - 2023 Roadmap: People

To become a true leader in the XR space and realise the company's INTEGRATEDXR™ vision, Vection Technologies must expand its XR development capabilities globally.

To achieve these objectives, Vection Technologies seeks to access transformational talent with skills ranging from XR development to management.

The path to growth via INTEGRATEDXR™

INTEGRATEDXR™ will facilitate growth via existing clients and new clients acquired via strategic acquisitions.
