

archTIS Awarded Contract up to $430k from Australian Department of Health

Company to provide architectural services to advise on changes across modern cloud and big data technologies to drive their data-centric strategy.

Canberra – 5 September, 2022 – archTIS Limited (ASX:AR9, OTCQB:ARHLF), a global provider of innovative software solutions for the secure collaboration of sensitive information, is pleased to announce that the Company has received an award for up to $430k (including GST) from the Australian Department of Health to advise on architectural changes toward the creation of a data-centric organisation.

The Department of Health and Aged Care is currently navigating 3 major transformation programs including, Generational Aged Care reform, Generational Therapeutic Goods (TGA) reform; and Modernisation of Medicine and Device subsidization. archTIS is providing domain expertise to assist the Department in achieving transformational technology change, modern technology architecture including adoption of new and emerging technologies and services and expanded methods whilst maintaining effective technology governance practices.

The work order is based on a time and materials basis from 1 September 2022 to 30 June 2023 and may be cancelled upon convenience. The award may also be extended for an additional 12-month period at the option of the Department of Health.

Tony Howell, archTIS Chief Solutions Architect, said: “archTIS is pleased to receive the award and confidence of the Department of Health. We welcome the opportunity to assist the Department in its journey towards a secure data driven future. We continue to expand our footprint across key Australian government agencies who are facing similar data centric challenges with their sensitive and valuable information.”
