

QX Resources Limited

20 March 2023

Investor Webinar

QX Resources Limited (ASX:QXR or the Company) is pleased to provide investors with an opportunity to participate in a webinar following the Company's strategic investment with battery minerals-focused Bayrock Resources Limited, an unlisted Australian public company with a portfolio of highly prospective battery minerals assets in Sweden, primarily in nickel, cobalt and copper.

Managing Director Steve Promnitz will be providing an update on this strategic investment, as well as the Company's other exploration and project development initiatives. He will also be available to address any questions following the presentation.

Questions can be submitted now to alex@investorstream.com.au or in written form during the webinar.

Anyone wishing to attend the webinar must register using the below link.
