CAUTIONARY STATEMENT REGARDING FORWARD-LOOKING INFORMATION

Certain information contained or incorporated by reference in this MD&A, including any information as to our future financial or operating performance, constitutes “forward-looking statements”. All statements, other than statements of historical fact, are forward-looking statements. The words “believe”, “expect”, “anticipate”, “contemplate”, “target”, “plan”, “intends”, “continue”, “budget”, “estimate”, “may”, “will”, “schedule” and similar expressions identify forward-looking statements. Forward-looking statements are necessarily based upon a number of estimates and assumptions that, while considered reasonable by us, are inherently subject to significant business, economic and competitive uncertainties and contingencies. Known and unknown factors could cause actual results to differ materially from those projected in the forward-looking statements. Such factors include, but are not limited to: fluctuations in the currency markets; fluctuations in the spot and forward price of gold or other commodities; changes in national and local government legislation, taxation, controls, regulations and political or economic developments in Canada and in other countries; business opportunities that may be presented to, or pursued by, us; operating or technical difficulties in connection with mining or development activities; employee relations; litigation; the speculative nature of exploration and development, including the risks of obtaining necessary licenses and permits; and contests over title to properties, particularly title to undeveloped properties. In addition, there are risks and hazards associated with the business of exploration, development and mining, including environmental hazards, industrial accidents, unusual or unexpected formations, pressures, cave-ins, flooding and the risk of inadequate insurance, or inability to obtain insurance, to cover these risks. Many of these uncertainties and contingencies can affect our actual results and could cause actual results to differ materially from those expressed or implied in any forward-looking statements made by, or on behalf of, us. Readers are cautioned that forward-looking statements are not guarantees of future performance. All of the forward-looking statements made in this MD&A are qualified by these cautionary statements.

We disclaim any intention or obligation to update or revise any forward-looking statements whether as a result of new information, future events or otherwise, except to the extent required by applicable laws.

Management's Discussion and Analysis – Quarterly Highlights

For the nine months ended February 28, 2023

(Expressed in Canadian Dollars- Unaudited)

1.1 Date

The following management's discussion and analysis ("MD&A"), which is dated April 12, 2023, the Company had $1,813,714 in cash (May 31, 2022 – $3,570,301) and working capital of $886,958 (May 31, 2022 – $2,740,156).

1.2 Outlook and Recent Exploration Activity

For the period ended February 28, 2023, the Company's focus has been continuing the development of its projects in Peru; continuing its review of other mineral projects that may fit within the Company's portfolio which led to the announcement on 15 February 2023 of the acquisition of greenfield lithium exploration assets in Brazil; and investigating the potential sourcing of other additional funding and/or pursuing industry partnerships. The following information presents details on the Company's properties and recent exploration and evaluation activities in Peru and Brazil and its former Chilean property. The WorldView-3 satellite imagery analyses discussed below was done by Fathom Geophysics LLC, a geophysics consulting company from Newark, Ohio, USA.

Exploration Highlights

Ilo Norte (Peru)

The Ilo Norte Project in southern Peru is an Iron Oxide Copper Gold (IOCG) exploration target with significant potential. Work to date has concentrated on a relatively small portion of the prospective part of the lease holding. Remote sensing and in-field mapping has demonstrated that a silica and potassic alteration halo that exists at the known mineralisation is augmented by a phyllic and jarosite alteration in the south-west of the property. Data compilation has been undertaken and prospective previously untested target areas identified are planned for follow-up in 2023. Results of Worldview-3 satellite imagery received outlined a new target area in the east of the property as well as confirming previous anomalies from regional remote sensing data. Field visits are planned.

Ilo Este (Peru)

Ilo Este, also in southern Peru, is a copper-gold porphyry deposit that has been eroded down to the mid-level of the system in the eastern part of the permit. WorldView-3 satellite imagery enabled an analysis of the alteration zones on a permit-wide scale with the identification of prospective areas in the west of the permit. Combined with recently complete data compilation, this will enable focused exploration to initiate in 2023 on distinct porphyry copper targets for rapid follow-up. These areas have not been explored to date. Field visits are planned.

Cinto Copper (Peru)

The Cinto Copper Project is in the southern Peruvian Copper belt located near Toquepala mine and is situated on or adjacent to the regional-scale Incahuasi Fault system. Various prospective rocks are exposed north of the fault and are under cover further south. WorldView-3 satellite analysis was commissioned by Solis and is complete with exploration targets identified and field visits planned.

Southern Peru Regional Exploration

Based on the compilation of historic data and the recent remote sensing analyses (satellite platforms), the Company has opted to expand its exploration in Southern Peru with the application for 10 more licenses on 16th November 2022. These applications augment the area of Ilo Norte and expand into prospective ground to the north. South of Ilo Este, but not contiguous to the existing permits, 3 applications were made to target specific remote sensing anomalies in prospective geology. Further analysis led to the staking of 7 new concessions – 5 north of Ilo Norte and 2 around the existing licence called Kelly. The entire regional exploration area around Ilo Norte was covered by Worldview-3 satellite imagery and the results were received showing alteration zones of exploration targets. Field visits are planned.

(Expressed in Canadian Dollars- Unaudited)

Borborema (Brazil)

The Company announced on 15 February 2023 it had secured the acquisition of 22 licence areas in North-eastern Brazil. The tenements cover a total area of 24,800 hectares in predominantly greenfields terrain. The tenements have yet to be exposed to systematic modern exploration techniques targeting LCT-bearing pegmatite systems. Historically, the pegmatite Borborema province has been reported to host several mineralised pegmatite occurrences and artisanal works producing Be, Nb-Ta, Li, Sn, gems, quartz, feldspar and others. Historical mining in the region, and the presence of the Niobium-Tantalum, Lithium and feldspars, indicate the area is pregnant with LCT-bearing pegmatite systems.

The Company has completed the initial compilation of available historical geological data and will now follow up with a comprehensive field programme specifically aimed at generating near-term drill targets. Once the transaction completes, systematic regional mapping and soil and rock chip geochemical sampling surveys will be undertaken to generate drill targets and identify the most prospective terrain within the licence areas.

Mostazal (Chile)

On June 30, 2022 Solis announced it had elected to withdraw from its option agreement on the Mostazal project in the Atacama region of Chile.

Qualified Person

Technical information in this MD&A has been reviewed and approved by Fred Tejada, P. Geo (30021), a qualified person and a consultant to the Company as defined in National Instrument 43-101.

1.3 Summary of Quarterly Results

The following table sets out certain unaudited financial information of the Company for each of the last eight quarters, beginning with the first quarter of fiscal 2020. This financial information has been prepared in accordance International Accounting Standard ("IAS") 34 Interim Financial Reporting using accounting policies consistent with IFRS issued by the International Accounting Standards Board ("IASB").

Quarterly results are highly variable for exploration companies depending, in particular, on whether the Company has any property write-downs, share-based payments expenses and gain or losses resulting from foreign exchange.

On or before June 23, 2025	2,100,000	2,400,000	100%

During the year ended May 31, 2021, the Company paid an exclusivity fee of US$40,000 ($43,433).

Other terms were for the optionors to retain a 2% Net Smelter Returns ("NSR") royalty on the property and the Company to have the right to buyback 1% of the royalty for US$1,500,000, or 0.5% of the royalty for US$750,000.

During the period ended February 28, 2023, the Company wrote-off $278,063 (May 31, 2022 - $1,892,172) of exploration and evaluation assets to reduce the carrying value to $Nil (May 31, 2022 - $Nil) as the option agreement was terminated during the period ended February 28, 2023.

Borborema, Brazil

During the period ended February 28, 2023, the Company acquired 22 exploration licences in North-eastern Brazil as part of a share assignment agreement to acquire 100% of Onça Mineração Ltda., a Brazilian company.

The Company agreed to pay US$20,000 and issue 500,000 fully paid ordinary shares of the Company on completion.

Three Months Ended February 28, 2023

Total loss and comprehensive loss for the three months ended February 28, 2023 was $720,699 compared to total loss and comprehensive loss of $449,064 for the three months ended February 28, 2022. During the period ended February 28, 2023:

- i) Accounting, audit and legal decreased to $66,653 (2022 – $93,123) due to expenses of the acquisition of Mostazal, the ASX dual-listing and IPO occurring in the comparative period.
- ii) Consulting fees decreased to $115,789 (2022 – $190,851) due to decreased business advisory services rendered in the current period.
- iii) Foreign exchange gain increased to $82,135 (2022 – loss of $32,531) due to fluctuations in the currency exchange in the current period.

Management's Discussion and Analysis – Quarterly Highlights

For the nine months ended February 28, 2023

(Expressed in Canadian Dollars- Unaudited)

1.5 Liquidity and Going Concern

The recovery of the Company's investment in exploration and evaluation properties and the attainment of profitable operations are dependent upon the discovery and development of economic precious and/or base metal or related reserves, and the ability of management to joint venture or profitably dispose of a development asset to a third party, or to arrange sufficient financing to bring a project into production. The ultimate outcome of these matters cannot presently be determined.

As the Company is in the exploration stage, no mineral producing revenue has been generated to date. The ability of the Company to meet its obligations and continue the exploration and development of its mineral properties is dependent upon its ability to continue to raise adequate financing. Historically, operating capital and exploration requirements have been funded primarily from equity financing, joint ventures, disposition of mineral properties and investments. There can be no assurance that such financing will be available to the Company in the amount required at any time or for any period or, if available, that it can be obtained on terms satisfactory to the Company. Based on the amount of funding raised, the Company's exploration program may be tailored accordingly.

Other than those obligations disclosed in the notes to its audited annual consolidated financial statements and discussed in this MD&A, the Company has no other long-term debt, capital lease obligations, operating leases, or any other long-term obligations. The Company has no outstanding debt facility upon which to draw.

The Company's cash position as at February 28, 2023 was $1,813,714 (May 31, 2022 – $3,570,301) and had working capital of $886,958 (May 31, 2022 – $2,740,156).

During the period ended February 28, 2023, cash flow used in operating activities was $901,949 (2022 – $1,328,920) relating to general operating expenses detailed on the statement of loss and comprehensive loss.

During the period ended February 28, 2023, cash flow used in investing activities was $854,638 (2022 – $857,391). It consists primarily of exploration and evaluation assets.

During the period ended February 28, 2023, cash flow used in financing activities was $Nil (2022 – $4,665,484). It consists primarily of proceeds from a private placement.

Historically, the Company's primary source of funding has been the issuance of equity securities for cash. The Company has issued common share capital pursuant to private placement financings, and the exercise of warrants and options. The Company's access to exploration financing is always uncertain. There can be no assurance of continued access to significant equity funding.

The Company's ability to raise additional funds may be impacted by future exploration results and changes in metal prices or market conditions.

In March 2020, there was a global pandemic outbreak of COVID-19. The actual and threatened spread of the virus globally continues to have an adverse effect on the global economy and specifically, the regional economies in which the Company operates. The pandemic could continue to result in delays in the course of business, including potential delays to its business plans and activities, and continue to have a negative impact on the stock market, including trading prices of the Company's shares and its ability to raise new capital. In addition, there continues to be uncertain political circumstances which could result negatively on the business plans of the Company in the regions which it operates or its ability to raise capital to fund its activities. These material uncertainties may cast significant doubt upon the Company's ability to continue as a going concern and realize its assets and settle its liabilities and commitments in the normal course of business.

A detail of the Company's recently completed private placements are discussed in the section that follows.

1.6 Capital Resources

During the period ended February 28, 2023, the Company did not undertake any share issuance activity.

During the year ended May 31, 2022, the Company:

- i) issued 255,000 common shares pursuant to exercise of warrants for gross proceeds of $45,000.
- ii) initiated an initial public offering of $5,045,230 (A$5,500,000) through the issuance of 27,500,000 shares (settled on the ASX in the form of CHESS depositary interests (CDIs)) at a price of $0.184 (A$0.20) per share, with one attaching warrant for every two shares with an exercise price of A$0.30 for a period of two years from the date of issue. The IPO closed on December 24, 2021. The Company recognized a derivative liability valued at $1,363,175 associated with the warrants. During the period ended February 28, 2023, the Company revalued the derivative liability at $617,208 (May 31, 2022 - $449,916) resulting in an unrealized loss on change in fair value of warrants of $167,292 (May 31, 2022 – gain of $913,259) through profit or loss for the period ended February 28, 2023.

The Company issued 3,666,667 finders' warrants (valued at $503,093) in connection with the initial public offering. Each warrant will entitle the holder to acquire an additional share of the Company at a price of A$0.28 per share until December 24, 2024. The Company incurred $359,780 in finders' fees and other share issuance costs associated with the offering.

1.7 Off-Balance Sheet Arrangements

The Company has no off-balance sheet arrangements.

1.9 Recent Accounting Pronouncements and new standards and interpretations

Please refer to the condensed interim consolidated financial statements for the nine months ended February 28, 2023 on www.sedar.com.

1.10 Financial Instruments and Other Instruments

The Company classifies its financial instruments in the following categories: at fair value through profit and loss ("FVTPL"), at fair value through other comprehensive income (loss) ("FVTOCI") or at amortized cost. The Company determines the classification of financial assets at initial recognition. The classification of debt instruments is driven by the Company's business model for managing the financial assets and their contractual cash flow characteristics. Equity instruments that are held for trading are classified as FVTPL. For other equity instruments, on the day of acquisition the Company can make an irrevocable election (on an instrument-by-instrument basis) to designate them as at FVTOCI. Financial liabilities are measured at amortized cost, unless they are required to be measured at FVTPL (such as instruments held for trading or derivatives) or if the Company has opted to measure them at FVTPL.

Financial assets/liabilities	New Classification IFRS 9
Cash	FVTPL
Receivables	Amortized cost
Accounts payable and accrued liabilities	Amortized cost
Derivative liability	FVTPL

The Company's risk exposure and the impact on the Company's financial instruments are summarized below.

a) Credit risk

Credit risk is the risk of loss associated with the counterparty's inability to fulfil its payment obligations. Financial instruments that potentially subject the Company to concentrations of credit risks consist principally of cash and receivables. To minimize the credit risk the Company places these instruments with a high-quality financial institution. The Company's receivables consist of amounts due from a former related party. Some amounts are settled past normal trade terms and in cases where amounts become uncollectible the Company recognizes bad debt expense to write off the uncollectible amounts.

b) Market Risk

Market risk is the risk that the fair value of, or future cash flows from, the Company's financial instruments will significantly fluctuate due to changes in market prices. The value of financial instruments can be affected by changes in interest rates, foreign currency rates and other price risk.

For the nine months ended February 28, 2023

(Expressed in Canadian Dollars- Unaudited)

(i) Interest rate risk

The Company is exposed to interest rate risk on the variable rate of interest earned on bank deposits. The fair value interest rate risk on bank deposits is insignificant as the deposits are short-term.

The Company has not entered into any derivative instruments to manage interest rate fluctuations.

(ii) Currency risk

The Company's expenses are denominated in Canadian dollars. The Company's corporate office is based in Canada and current exposure to exchange rate fluctuations is minimal.

The Company does not have any significant foreign currency denominated monetary liabilities.

The Company is exposed to currency risk to the extent that expenditures incurred by the Company are denominated in currencies other than the Canadian dollar including Chilean peso and United States dollar. The Company does not manage currency risk through hedging or other currency management tools.

The Company's net exposure to foreign currency risk is as follows:

	February 28, 2023 US Dollars	May 31, 2022 US Dollars	February 28, 2023 Chilean Pesos	May 31, 2022 Chilean Pesos	February 28, 2023 AU Dollars	May 31, 2022 AU Dollars

(iii) Other price risk

Other price risk is the risk that the fair value or future cash flows of a financial instrument will fluctuate due to changes in market prices, other than those arising from interest rate risk or currency risk. The Company is not exposed to other price risk.

c) Liquidity risk

Liquidity risk is the risk that the Company will not be able to meet its financial obligations as they fall due. The Company has a planning and budgeting process in place to help determine the funds required to support the Company's normal operating requirements on an ongoing basis. The Company ensures that there are sufficient funds to meet its short-term business requirements, taking into account its anticipated cash flows from operations and its holdings of cash.

The following is an analysis of the contractual maturities of the Company's non-derivative financial liabilities at February 28, 2023:

	Within 60 days	Between 61-90 days	More than 90 days

Risks and uncertainties

The Company is in the business of acquiring and exploring mineral properties, which is a highly speculative endeavour, and the Company's future performance may be affected by events, risks or uncertainties that are outside of the Company's control.

The Company's management consider the risks disclosed to be the most significant to potential investors of the Company, but not all risks associated with an investment in securities of the Company. If any of these risks materialize into actual events or circumstances or other possible additional risks and uncertainties of which the directors are currently unaware or which they consider not be material in relation to the Company's business, actually occur, the Company's assets, liabilities, financial condition, results of operations (including future results of operations), business and business prospects, are likely to be materially and adversely affected.

In such circumstances, the price of the Company's securities could decline, and investors may lose all or part of their investment.

Further Information

Additional information about the Company is available at the Company's website at www.solisminerals.com.

Commitments

The Company is committed to certain cash payments, and exploration expenditures in connection with its mineral property claims.

The Company is party to certain consulting agreements. These agreements contain clauses requiring additional payments to be made upon the occurrence of certain events such as change of control. As the likelihood of these events taking place is not determinable, the contingent payments have not been provided for in the consolidated financial statements.
