ASX RELEASE

1 June 2023

Update to Release of Investor Presentation

Security-as-a-Service platform provider Scout Security (ASX: SCT, "Scout" or "the Company") is updating its release from 1 June 2023 titled "Investor Presentation". Additional information being provided relates to the launch of Scout products to existing Windstream customers via Windstream's e-commerce channels.

Until now, Windstream has only targeted new customers with the Scout-powered Kinetic Secure Home offer, rather than existing customers. As such, this upcoming development represents a significant potential additional boost to Scout revenue.

Planned to commence now in June, existing Windstream customers will be able to subscribe to the offer directly through the GoKinetic portal, with new hardware shipped straight to their service address. Marketing email campaigns will begin at launch, directly targeting over 600k subscribers at a time, including call to action links to purchase via the portal.

The delay from May to June in Windstream launching their e-commerce platform has no effect on the current sales channels, where volumes are expected to maintain at the prior rates. To be clear, the Company does not expect there will be any impact on sales from the delay.

This ASX release has been authorised by the CEO of Scout Security Ltd.
