Aurora Labs signs MOU with Aramco

Highlights:

- Aurora Labs has signed a non-binding Memorandum of Understanding with Aramco, one of the world's leading integrated energy and chemicals companies.
- The MoU was signed after a recent visit to Aurora Labs' Perth facility by senior Aramco management.
- The MoU outlines potential collaboration areas on new technologies.

Aurora Labs Limited ("Aurora Labs" or "the Company"), (ASX:A3D), is pleased to announce it has signed a non-binding Memorandum of Understanding (MoU) with Saudi Arabian Oil Company ("Aramco").

The MoU was signed during a visit to Aurora Labs' Perth facility by senior executives of Aramco. It outlines potential cooperation areas for Aramco and Aurora Labs to explore, including the exchange of information regarding Aurora's upcoming AL250 metal 3D printer, its high-power printing capabilities and its patented MCP™ technology. The MoU also outlines exchange of information regarding Saudi Arabia and GCC markets, and potential joint development of opportunities in the 3D printing business.

Peter Snowsill, Aurora's CEO commented:

"We thank Aramco for their time and interest to visit our facility and we look forward to learning more about the opportunities we can explore together, leveraging Aurora Labs' technology with Aramco's vast energy industry experience.

"We are encouraged to see Aramco recognising the supply chain benefits metal 3D printing can deliver through localised production."

Ends.

Approved for release by the Company's Board of Directors.
