Retraction of Forecast Financial Information

Grand Gulf Energy Ltd (ASX:GGE) (“Grand Gulf” or the “Company”) released a presentation announcement on 7 August 2023. Following discussions with ASX, the Company retracts the information contained in that release with regard to an in-ground value. This is inconsistent with the ASX Listing rules wherein it states that an entity must not report forecast financial information derived from an estimate of prospective resources.

As a consequence of the retraction, the Company advises that investors should not rely on the retracted in-ground value in making their investment decisions.

The release of this announcement is authorized by the board of directors.
