4 December 2023, RocketDNA Ltd (ASX: RKT), a global drones-as-a-service provider, is pleased to advise that it has received firm commitments to raise $1.1m through the issue of approximately 122,222,222 new fully paid ordinary shares ("Shares") and an issue price of $0.009 (0.9 cents) per Share ("Placement").

The Placement was well supported by a range of new professional and sophisticated investors including a well-regarded family office, along with RKT Directors and management who will invest an aggregate of $100k.

New funds from the Placement will be used to fund growth in the autonomous drone business; to build and deploy approximately 20 autonomous xBot® units, including more software development on the front-end platform, xBot® roll-out and go-to-market activities, and to strengthen the balance sheet.

xBot® Autonomous Drone Product (Drone-in-a-Box)

Applications and trials: The Company sees an opportunity to front-run its xBot® roll-out, based on the significant market opportunity and conversations the Company is having with industry participants. xBot® has application across a number of settings and verticals. Currently these are Inspections, Patrols and Survey. Industry verticals currently include mining, security, solar and linear assets and further applications in additional verticals are expected to grow over time. xBOT® is already installed on an existing client mine site in Western Australia undergoing trials. This is a delivery of a 'first time' technology solution to the mining sector in a solution in a service format,

Certifications: The xBot® solution is the culmination of significant planning and successfully applied for approval steps, as announced over recent months, to operate autonomous drone product including for remote docking station operations from the Civil Aviation Safety Authority (CASA) in Australia as well as being the first company to receive approval from the South African Civil Aviation Authority (SACAA).

The Company earlier in the year received additional approvals for long range drone flight, Beyond Visual Line of Sight (BVLOS) and for meeting Safety standards. BVLOS approval enables long-range operations, with approval received from the local Civil Aviation & Safety Authorities. This enables the Company to execute long-range BVLOS missions, unlocking cost efficiencies.

RocketDNA has received BARS verification, a requirement to operate on large mining sites, which has been received in both South Africa and Australia - one of the highest commitments to safety in the contracted aviation world.

AI enabled: Faster geospatial insight is a growing segment of our data products and insights, powered by AI tools, allowing the Company to process, quantify and report faster than previous manual calculations. RKT sees further potential to build its front-end platform and to enter partnerships and collaborations, similar to the partnership announced (see ASX announcement 14 November 2022) late last year with Strayos software specialising in the mining sector.

RocketDNA CEO Christopher Clark said: “We are extremely pleased with this capital raise and the support shown from investors, especially given current market conditions.

We have a unique competitive advantage, following regulatory approvals for our autonomous xBOT® drone solution and believe the market demand and economic reward for deploying this niche solution is now mature enough to sustain long-term growth within in our key operating markets of Australia and South Africa.

The conversations we are having with large mining companies is not “if” they are considering autonomous drone-in-a-box systems, only “when”, and with the continuing constraints of sourcing adequate labour for these remote mining locations combined with the complexity involved in building, operating and maintaining this technology stack, we believe the window of opportunity is now.

The funds, which we have raised, will allow us to build and configure approximately 20 xBOT® units, providing us with a ready-to-go inventory of autonomous drones to meet customer demand and interest in trials.

We will continue to develop our sales and marketing strategy, leveraging our xBOT® autonomous drone capability, combined with our AI skills & toolsets to increase the number of use cases, in which we are looking to result in the growing of our pipeline of sales.”

The Placement:

The Placement will be conducted in two tranches with the first tranche of approximately 118,333,333 ($1,065,000) Shares issued under the Placement being issued pursuant to the Company’s existing placement capacity under ASX Listing Rules 7.1 and 7.1A and representing approximately 22.16% of current shares on issue.

The second tranche being subject to shareholder approval at a General Meeting of the Company to be held around mid to late January 2024, is to issue 3,888,888 ($35,000) fully paid ordinary shares to the directors of the Company.

The issue price of new Shares represents a 13.67% discount to the 15-day Volume Weighted Average Price (VWAP) of $0.0104 and a 5.26% discount to the closing price of $0.0095 on 29 November 2023.

Sydney-based advisory firm, Prenzler Group Pty Ltd acted as Lead Manager to the Placement and will receive a 6% capital raising fee on the gross funds raised, pursuant to the Placement terms, for acting in this capacity. The Lead Manager and or its nominees, will also receive 10,000,000 options with an exercise price of $0.018 (1.8 cents) and an expiry date of 24 months from the date of issue (see attached Terms and Conditions).
