

CONVERTIBLE NOTE FUNDING

ATHENA SECURES $1 MILLION CONVERTIBLE NOTE FUNDING

Athena Resources Limited (“Athena” or the “Company”) (ASX:AHN) is pleased to announce the Company has secured a binding commitment from Fenix Resources Limited (“Fenix”) (ASX:FEX) to raise up to $1,000,000 from the issue of Convertible Notes (“Convertible Notes” or “Notes”) to Fenix.

Athena and Fenix have signed a binding Terms Sheet (“Term Sheet”) that provides that Athena will receive up to $1,000,000 in cash to fund development of Athena’s Byro Magnetite Project (the “Byro Project”) in Western Australia’s Mid-West region.

Highlights:

- $1 million Convertible Note funding committed in two tranches, with the First Tranche of $320,000 expected to be drawn imminently.
- Conversion price of $0.002 per share.
- Funds to be applied to the upgrade of the pending Scoping Study and continued development of the Byro Project.
- If fully converted, Fenix would, subject to any necessary Shareholder and regulatory approvals, become Athena’s largest shareholder with a 31.8% shareholding.

Convertible Notes:

The Convertible Notes are available in two tranches, with the First Tranche to be issued using the Company’s available placement capacity under listing rule 7.1, and the Second Tranche to be issued subject to shareholder approval (if Shareholder approval is not obtained within three months, the Second Tranche will not be issued).

The First Tranche of Notes have a face value of $320,000 and the Second Tranche have a face value of $680,000.

The Notes have a maturity date of twelve months from the date the First Tranche is issued and accrue interest at the rate of 8% per annum.

About Athena Resources: AHN is an Australian ASX listed explorer and developer of highgrade iron ore assets in Western Australia. The Company is focused on its Byro Project, strategically located in the Mid-West region 410km from the Port of Geraldton.
