NexGen Energy (Canada) Ltd.

ARBN 649 325 128

A foreign company registered in its original jurisdiction of British Columbia, Canada as NexGen Energy Ltd.

29 May 2024

Notice under sections 708A(5)(e) and 708A(12C)(e) of the Corporations Act 2001 (Cth)

NexGen Energy (Canada) Ltd. a foreign company registered in its original jurisdiction of British Columbia, Canada as NexGen Energy Ltd. (NexGen) gives this notice (Cleansing Notice) under sections 708A(5)(e) and 708A(12C)(e) of the Corporations Act 2001 (Cth) (Corporations Act) as notionally inserted by ASIC Corporations (Sale Offers: Securities Issued on Conversion of Convertible Notes) Instrument 2016/82 (ASIC Instrument 2016/82) and modified by ASIC Instrument 22-0915.

Where applicable, references in this Cleansing Notice to the Corporations Act are to those sections as modified by ASIC Instrument 2016/82 and ASIC Instrument 22-0915.

This Cleansing Notice is important and should be read in its entirety. Neither ASIC nor ASX takes any responsibility for the contents of this Cleansing Notice.

1 Background

2024 Convertible Debentures

On 8 May 2024, NexGen announced it had entered into a binding terms sheet with MMCap International Inc. SPC (MMCap) in relation to the purchase of 2,702,410 pounds natural uranium concentrate (U_3O_8) for an aggregate purchase price of US$250 million based on the 5-day average UxC spot price (Purchase). In satisfaction of the purchase price for the U_3O_8 , NexGen agreed to issue US$250 million aggregate principal amount of unsecured interest bearing convertible debentures.

In connection with the Purchase, NexGen has today announced the issue of:

- 250,000 convertible debentures with a face value of US$1,000 each (2024 Convertible Debentures) to MMCap and certain other investors (collectively, with MMCap, the Investors), convertible into fully paid ordinary shares in the capital of NexGen (Shares); and
- 909,090 Shares to MMCap (Establishment Shares).

The 2024 Convertible Debentures and Establishment Shares were issued without disclosure under Part 6D.2 of the Corporations Act in reliance on the disclosure exemptions contained in section 708 of the Corporations Act.

Investor Rights Agreements

NexGen has also announced that, in connection with the Purchase, NexGen has entered into an investor rights agreement with the Investors (Investor Rights Agreement), containing voting alignment, standstill, and transfer restrictions that will apply unless and until there is a change of control of NexGen. A summary of the Investor Rights Agreement is set out in Schedule 1.

2 Contents of this Cleansing Notice

This Cleansing Notice sets out the following:

- (a) in relation to the 2024 Convertible Debentures:
 - (i) the effect of the issue of the 2024 Convertible Debentures on NexGen;
 - (ii) a summary of the rights and liabilities attaching to the 2024 Convertible Debentures; and
 - (iii) a summary of the rights and liabilities attaching to the Shares issuable on the conversion of the 2024 Convertible Debentures;

- (B) the rights and liabilities attaching to the Shares; and
- (c) any other information relating to NexGen's reporting and disclosure obligations under the Company Manual of the TSX and where certain documents may be obtained.

3 The effect of the 2024 Convertible Debentures on NexGen

The principal effects of the issue of the 2024 Convertible Debentures on NexGen are to:

- (a) increase the amount of physical U₃O on NexGen's balance sheet by 2,702,410 pounds;
- (b) increase the number of 2024 Convertible Debentures on issue from nil to 250,000; and
- (c) increase NexGen's indebtedness by an amount equal to US$250 million plus all accrued and unpaid interest.

The Investors may convert the 2024 Convertible Debentures to Shares, either in whole or in part, at US$10.73 per Share. If the 2024 Convertible Debentures are converted in whole or in part, this will dilute existing shareholders of NexGen (Shareholders).

4 Potential effect of the 2024 Convertible Debentures on NexGen's Capital Structure

The effect of conversion of the 2024 Convertible Debentures on NexGen's issued share capital will depend on what portion (if any) of the 2024 Convertible Debentures are converted to Shares at any one time.

The effect of the 2024 Convertible Debentures on NexGen's capital structure is as follows.

Class	As at the date of this Cleansing Notice	After conversion of the 2024 Convertible Debentures ⁽¹⁾ (face value only)	After conversion of the 2024 Convertible Debentures ⁽¹⁾ (face value and all interest payments)
Shares (including CDIs)	561,166,699 ⁽²⁾	584,465,860 ⁽³⁾	589,292,114 ⁽⁴⁾
Options	49,715,807	49,715,807	49,715,807
2023 Convertible Debentures ⁽⁵⁾	110,000	110,000	110,000
2024 Convertible Debentures	250,000	Nil	Nil

Notes:

- Assumes none of the 2023 Convertible Debentures or Options are exercised prior to conversion of the 2024 Convertible Debentures.
- Includes the Establishment Shares.
- The number of Shares to be issued on conversion of the 2024 Convertible Debentures is calculated based on a conversion price of US$10.73, being a 30% premium to the volume-weighted average trading price of NexGen's shares on the TSX for the 5-days ending on the day prior to the execution of the binding term sheet with MMCap (as described in Section 1).
- Interest is payable on the 2024 Convertible Debentures at a rate of 9%, compounded semi-annually, with two thirds of this amount payable in cash and one third payable in Shares. Refer to Section 5 for a summary of the terms and conditions of the 2024 Convertible Indentures. Assumes interest payments are made at the NYSE closing share price on 24 May 2024 of US$7.77.
- Convertible into a total of 16,272,189 Shares (principle) plus 198,198 Shares (interest), assuming interest payments are made at the NYSE closing share price on 24 May 2024 of US$7.77. Refer to NexGen's announcement to ASX on 25 September 2023, for further details of the 2023 Convertible Debentures.

5 Potential effect on control of NexGen

The level of ownership of Shares by the Investors if the 2024 Convertible Debentures are converted, will depend on the number of 2024 Convertible Debentures that are converted to Shares and the number of Shares on issue at the time of conversion.

However, based on the number of Shares each Investor already holds, the maximum number of Shares that the Investors would be entitled to upon conversion of the 2024 Convertible Debentures and the current number of Shares on issue:

- MMCap would hold 5.50% of all Shares currently on issue; and
- the other Investors, excluding MMCap, would hold 0.20% of all Shares currently on issue, in each case inclusive of interest settled by way of issue of Shares.

7 Rights and Liabilities attaching to Shares and CDIs

Rights and liabilities attaching to Shares

The Shares issued to the Investor upon conversion of the 2024 Convertible Debentures will rank equally in all respects with all of NexGen's existing Shares. A summary of the rights and liabilities attaching to Shares, including the Shares to be issued to the Investors on conversion of the 2024 Convertible Notes, is detailed below.

The summary is not exhaustive and does not purport to constitute a definitive statement of the rights and liabilities of Shareholders and is qualified by the full terms of the Articles (a full copy of the Articles is available from NexGen on request free of charge).

General meetings	An annual general meeting of Shareholders is required to be held by NexGen once in every calendar year and not more than 15 months after the last annual general meeting of Shareholders. NexGen is required to give Shareholders at least 21 days' and not more than 2 months' notice of a meeting of Shareholders. Each Shareholder is entitled to receive notice of, attend and vote at any meeting of Shareholders and to receive all notices required to be sent to Shareholders under applicable law.
Voting rights	Unless the Business Corporations Act (British Columbia) or Articles require a special resolution, any action that must or may be taken or authorised by the shareholders of NexGen may be taken or authorised by an ordinary resolution. Ordinary resolutions of NexGen are passed by a simple majority of votes cast on the resolution. The majority of votes required for NexGen shareholders to approve a special resolution at a meeting of Shareholders is two-thirds of the votes cast on the resolution. The quorum for the transaction of business at a meeting of Shareholders is two persons who are, or represent by proxy, Shareholders which hold, in the aggregate, at least 5% of the issued Shares entitled to be voted at the meeting. Every motion put to a vote at a meeting of Shareholders will be decided on a show of hands unless a poll, before or on the declaration of the result of the vote by show of hands, is directed by the chair or demanded by at least one Shareholder entitled to vote who is present in person or by proxy. Subject to any special rights or restrictions attached to any Shares and to the restrictions imposed on joint shareholders on a vote by show of hands, every person present who is a shareholder or proxy holder and entitled to vote on the matter has one vote, and on a poll, every shareholder entitled to vote on the matter has one vote in respect of each Share entitled to be voted on the matter and held by that shareholder and may exercise that vote either in person or by proxy. As detailed below in 'Rights of CDI Holders', holders of CDIs can attend but cannot vote in person at a general meeting, and must instead direct CDN (defined below) how to vote in advance of the meeting. ---------------------------	---

Rights of CDI holders

NexGen is incorporated in British Columbia, Canada, and the requirements of applicable securities laws that registered shareholders have the right to receive a stock certificate do not permit the CHESS system (being ASX's system of electronic transfer and settlement) of holding uncertificated securities. Accordingly, for Shareholders to trade their Shares on ASX, they must first be transmuted into a Chess Depository Interest (CDI).

CDIs are electronic depository interests or receipts issued and are units of beneficial ownership in underlying Shares registered on the Canadian register of Shareholders in the name of CHESS Depository Nominees Pty Ltd (CDN). CDN is a wholly owned subsidiary of ASX. The main difference between holding CDIs and Shares is that the holder of CDIs has beneficial ownership of the underlying Shares instead of legal title. Legal title to the underlying Shares is held by CDN for the benefit of the CDI holder. The Shares converted into CDIs will be registered in the name of CDN for the benefit of the CDI holders. Each NexGen CDI represents one underlying Share.

CDN receives no fees from investors for acting as the depository nominee in respect of CDIs. CDI holders have the same economic benefits of holding the underlying Shares. CDI holders are able to transfer and settle transactions electronically on ASX. With the exception of voting rights, the CDI holders are generally entitled to equivalent rights and entitlements as if they were the legal owners of Shares.

CDI holders will receive notices of general meetings of Shareholders. As CDI holders are not the legal owners of underlying Shares, CDN, which holds legal title to the Shares underlying the CDIs, is entitled to vote at shareholder meetings of NexGen on the instruction of the CDI holders.

CDI holders are entitled to give instructions for one vote for every underlying Share held by CDN. NexGen participates in CHESS, which is the ASX electronic transfer and settlement system in Australia, in accordance with the ASX Listing Rules and ASX Operating Rules.

Set out below is a summary of CDIs.

Nature of CDIs	A CDI is a unit of beneficial ownership in a share (or beneficial interest in a share) or option of a foreign company, where the underlying share, interest or option is registered in the name of a depository nominee (in this case CDN), for the purpose of enabling the foreign share, interest or option to be traded on the ASX.
Specific Features of a CDI	The main difference between holding CDIs and Shares is that the holder of CDIs has beneficial ownership of the underlying Shares instead of legal title. Legal title to the underlying Shares is held by CDN on the Canadian register of Shareholders for the benefit of the CDI Holder. Each CDI will represent one underlying Share. CDI holders have the same economic benefits of holding the underlying Shares. CDI holders are able to transfer and settle transactions electronically on ASX. With the exception of voting rights, the CDI holders are entitled to equivalent rights and entitlements as if they were the legal owners of Shares. CDI holders will receive notices of general meetings of Shareholders.
Dividend rights	The ASX Settlement Rules require that all economic benefits, such as dividends, bonus issues, or other distributions flow through to CDI holders as if they were the legal owners of the underlying securities. As each CDI will represent one underlying Share, in the event NexGen pays a dividend or undertakes a distribution, CDI holders will receive the same benefit as if they were holding Shares.
Voting Rights	CDI holders cannot vote personally at Shareholder meetings. The CDI Holder must convert their CDIs into certificated Shares prior to the relevant meeting in order to vote in person at the meeting. As CDI holders are not the legal owners of underlying Shares, CDN, which holds legal title to the Shares underlying the CDIs, is entitled to vote at Shareholder meetings of NexGen on the instruction of the CDI holders. The ASX Settlement Rules require NexGen to give notices to CDI holders of general meetings of Shareholders. The notice of meeting must include a form permitting the CDI Holder to direct CDN how to vote on a particular resolution, in accordance with the CDI Holder's written directions. CDN is then obliged under the ASX Settlement Rules to lodge proxy votes in accordance with the directions of CDI holders.

Corporate Actions	The ASX Settlement Rules require that all economic benefits, such as dividends, bonus issues, rights issues or similar corporate actions flow through to CDI holders as if they were the legal owners of the underlying securities. However, in some cases, marginal difference may exist between the resulting entitlements of CDI holders and the entitlements they would have accrued if they held Shares directly. This is because, for the purposes of certain corporate actions, CDN's holding of Shares is, for a Canadian legal reasons, treated as a single holding, rather than as a number of smaller separate holdings corresponding to the individual interests of CDI holders (thus, for example, CDI holders will not benefit to the same extent from the rounding up of fractional entitlements as if they held Shares directly).
Takeovers	If a takeover bid or similar transaction is made in relation to the Shares of which CDN is the registered holder, the ASX Settlement Rules require that CDN must not accept the offer made under the takeover bid except to the extent that acceptance is authorised by the relevant CDI Holder. In these circumstances, CDN must ensure that the offeror, pursuant to the takeover bid, processes the takeover acceptance.
Converting Between Shares and CDIs	CDI holders may at any time convert their holding of CDIs (tradeable on ASX) into Shares held on the Canadian register of Shareholders by: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • in the case of CDIs held through the issuer sponsored sub-register, contacting the Computershare Australia (NexGen's Australian share registry) directly to obtain the applicable 'CDI Cancellation Australian to Canadian Register' request form for completion and return it to NexGen's share registry (see www.computershare.com/au); or • in the case of CDIs held on the CHESS sub-register, contacting their controlling participant (generally a stockbroker), who will liaise with the Australian Share Registry to obtain and complete the request form. Upon receipt of a request form, the relevant number of CDIs will be cancelled and Shares will be transferred from CDN into the name of the CDI holder and a registered uncertificated book-entry position created or share certificate issued. This will cause the CDI holder's Shares to be registered on the Canadian register of Shareholders and trading will no longer be possible on ASX. The Canadian Share Registry will not charge an individual security holder or NexGen a fee for converting CDI holdings into Shares (although a fee will be payable by market participants). It is expected that this process will be completed within 24 hours, provided that Computershare Australia has received a duly completed and valid form. No guarantee can be given regarding the actual timing for the conversion to take place. A holder of Shares may also convert their Shares to CDIs by contacting their Canadian stockbroker (or applicable controlling participant) or the Canadian Share Registry where applicable.

8 Continuous Disclosure Obligations

NexGen is admitted to the official list of ASX as a 'Foreign Exempt Listing', meaning NexGen is not subject to section 674 of the Corporations Act and is exempt from complying with the continuous disclosure provisions in the ASX Listing Rules. Therefore, NexGen is not a 'disclosing entity' (as defined in section 111AC of the Corporations Act) for the purposes of this Cleansing Notice.

However, NexGen is subject to substantially equivalent continuous disclosure obligations under the rules and policies of the TSX applicable to NexGen (TSX Rules), whereby NexGen is required to disclose, via a news release that is to be filed on SEDAR, all material information concerning its business or affairs, which is information that results in, or would reasonably be expected to result in, a significant change in the market price or value of NexGen's listed securities, forthwith upon the information becoming known to management, or in the case of information previously known, forthwith upon it becoming apparent that the information is material. NexGen is required to lodge any documents lodged under the TSX Rules concurrently on the ASX market announcements platform in accordance with ASX Listing Rule 1.15.2.

NexGen has received relief from ASIC in the form of ASIC Instrument 22-0915 permitting NexGen to issue this Cleansing Notice under sections 708A(5)(e) and 708A(12C)(e) of the Corporations Act (as notionally inserted by ASIC Instrument 2016/82). Refer to Section 11 below for further details on ASIC Instrument 22-0915.

This Cleansing Notice is a 'cleansing notice' under sections 708A(5)(e) and 708A(12C)(e) of the Corporations Act to which the special content rules under section 708A(12D) of the Corporations Act apply (each as notionally inserted by ASIC Instrument 2016/82 and modified by ASIC Instrument 22-0915).

This provision (as modified by ASIC Instrument 22-0915) allows sale offers of securities issued on conversion of convertible securities to be made to retail investors within 12 months of their issue without disclosure under Part 6D.2 of the Corporations Act, provided that a cleansing notice is issued in relation to the convertible securities to which they relate.

In general terms 'cleansing notices' under section 708A(5)(e) and 708A(12C)(e) of the Corporations Act are only required to contain information in relation to the effect of the issue of new securities on the issuing company and the rights attaching to the new securities. It is not necessary to include general information in relation to all of the assets and liabilities, the financial position, profits and losses or prospects of the issuing company.

This Cleansing Notice is intended to be read in conjunction with the publicly available information in relation to NexGen which has been notified to ASX under ASX Listing Rule 1.15.2 and does not include all of the information that would be included in a prospectus for an initial public offering of NexGen's securities in Australia. Investors should therefore have regard to the publicly available information in relation to NexGen before making a decision whether or not to invest in NexGen.

Having taken such precautions and having made such enquires as are reasonable, NexGen states that:

- (a) it is subject to:
 - (i) regulatory reporting and disclosure obligations of the TSX Company Manual; and
 - (ii) section 601CK of the Corporations Act;
- (b) copies of documents lodged with ASIC in relation to NexGen may be obtained from, or inspected at, the offices of ASIC; and
- (c) it will provide a copy of each of the following documents, free of charge, to any person on request:

 - (ii) any notices given by NexGen in accordance with its obligations under ASX Listing Rule 1.15.2, as in force on 25 October 2022 (being the date of ASIC Instrument 22-0915), after the lodgement of its most recent balance sheet and other documents lodged with ASIC under section 601CK of the Corporations Act and before the lodgement of the Prospectus.

Copies of all documents lodged with the ASIC in relation to NexGen can be inspected at the office of the Australian Company Secretary at Suite 8, 7 The Esplanade, Mount Pleasant, Western Australia during normal office hours.
