

Operations Update

Queensland Pacific Metals Ltd (ASX:QPM) (“QPM” or “the Company”) and its subsidiary QPM Energy advise that an underground coal gas ignition incident occurred at Anglo American’s Grosvenor Coal Mine on Saturday 29 June 2024. The Grosvenor Coal Mine overlaps an area within the Moranbah Gas Project (“MGP”).

All QPM Energy staff and contractors are safe and we are also pleased to hear that the Grosvenor Mine workforce are safe and the mine was evacuated with no injuries reported.

QPM Energy has secured safe access to the MGP gas field and normal operations are continuing. There has been no impact to production. We are continuing to work closely with the mine’s emergency services team to monitor the situation.

This announcement has been authorised for release by the Board.
