Today, Swift signed a 3-year agreement with Shell for their Prelude vessel to install Swift Access, with Swift's Secure Casting and provide ongoing Swift support services, including a 24/7 Technical Helpdesk.

Prelude is an operational floating liquefied natural gas (FLNG) facility, located offshore, north-northeast of Broome, in Western Australia.

At 488m long and 74m wide The Prelude FLNG facility is the largest vessel in the world. It has been designed to remain moored in the field for at least 25 years.

Swift has a well-established portfolio of premium Oil and Gas companies as key customers. Shell is a highly valued part of Swift's impressive client list across the sector, alongside INPEX, Roy Hill, BHP, MinRes, and more.

Swift's knowledge has been developed over years of experience in the installation, and ongoing delivery of reliable services in unique environments, such as offshore vessels and remote onshore sites.

Swift CEO Brian Mangano commented, "We are pleased to announce of new agreement with Shell for their impressive Prelude facility, the largest vessel in the world! Swift's extensive experience within this sector has led to the development of product features and solutions to overcome challenges unique to the Oil and Gas sector, particularly for offshore locations. We are pleased to share the benefits of Swift's years of experience and reinforce Swift's position as a trusted supplier of village entertainment services in the sector.
