

ASX Release | 17 March 2025

Resignation of QuickFee US President

QuickFee Limited (ASX:QFE) ("QuickFee") today announces Jennifer Warawa, President QuickFee US, has resigned to pursue another opportunity within a technology company.

Under Jennifer's leadership, for the past two and a half years the QuickFee US business refined its product and go to market strategy, including the development and launch of the Connect platform. Jennifer has assembled an experienced leadership team in the US, and during her tenure she signed several valuable strategic partnerships.

The Board has appointed James Drummond, the Company's Chief Operating Officer, as Acting US President. Mr. Drummond, a 9-year veteran of QuickFee, has deep knowledge and experience in all critical areas of the business and is well positioned to ensure a smooth transition working alongside Jennifer during her 2 month notice period.

Chairman Dale Smorgon said:

"I sincerely thank Jennifer for her leadership, hard work and tremendous commitment in moving the US business through an important phase in its life cycle to operating profitability. We appreciate all her efforts and wish her well in her future endeavours.

I am confident that with James as Acting US President, the transition period with Jennifer will be seamless and the Company will continue to drive improved operating performance for the balance of the fiscal year. QuickFee will commence a comprehensive search for a replacement leader in the US and will update the market in due course".

This announcement has been authorised for release by the directors.
