EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

This small capital raise follows the Company's strategy of minimising dilution while providing sufficient funds to achieve the next development and revaluation milestone.

As previously stated, this is a busy quarter with engagement with off-takers, strategic and industry players and project finance groups. Management has been delighted with feedback which underlines its view that the WAH<sub>2</sub> project is Australia's pre-eminent clean ammonia fuel project. Upon completion of agreements with off-take and strategic partners the project will undertake the full FEED analysis culminating in the Final Investment Decision (the FID) expected in Q2 2026.

The conversion mechanism in the convertible notes allows the Company to achieve a higher effective issue price from any higher valuations after re-rating as announcements are made, whilst also guaranteeing a minimum conversion price of $0.02.

The new shares and convertible notes will be issued from NH3's existing ASX Listing Rule 7.1 capacity.

Chairman Charles Whitfield commented:

"We welcome an important new investor to the register and their capital injection indicates a strong belief in the project and the compelling valuation of the Company given the advanced stage of the project and the progress being made month by month."<sup>1</sup>

Convertible Notes Key Terms

Key terms of the convertible notes are set out in the Annexure.

The notes have a maturity date of 20 December 2025 and are convertible into NH3 shares at a 20% discount to the 30-day VWAP at the time of conversion subject to a $0.02 floor price.

The Company may redeem all of an outstanding note by providing a notice of redemption to the noteholder at any time. A convertible note that is the subject of a notice of redemption issued by the Company may be converted by the noteholder.

This announcement has been authorised for release by the Board of Directors.
