Specialist resources services provider Babylon Pump & Power Limited ("Babylon", "the Company" or "the Group") (ASX: BPP) is pleased to announce it has entered into a binding agreement to acquire 100% of Matrix, a specialist provider of aquifer testing and groundwater management services to Western Australia's resources sector. The acquisition further strengthens Babylon's water management capabilities and supports its strategy to deliver integrated, high-margin services to Tier 1 mining clients.

The acquisition of Matrix is subject to the satisfaction of various conditions precedent including, but not limited to, Babylon having satisfactorily completed its due diligence enquiries in relation to Matrix, and there being no material adverse change impacting Matrix.

Strategic Fit and Management Alignment

Matrix's management brings decades of hydrogeological field experience and will bolster Babylon's capability in delivering turnkey water management solutions. Matrix's technical expertise and long-standing client relationships make it highly complementary to Babylon's existing operations. Both of Matrix's co-founders will join the Babylon executive team, enhancing the group's technical depth and leadership capacity.

Babylon's Managing Director and CEO, Michael Shelby, commented:

"I am very pleased to announce the Matrix acquisition which will significantly enhance our ability to serve our clients - bringing together highly specialised diagnostic services with our existing rental and maintenance platforms. With Blair and Michael on board, we are doubling down on our commitment to deliver insight-driven, high-integrity water solutions to WA's major resource developers. The acquisition terms represent another fiscally disciplined acquisition for Babylon. I look forward to continuing to deliver value for our shareholders and am very positive about the future for Babylon."

About Matrix Hydro Services

Matrix Hydro Services was founded in 2021 by Blair McDiarmid and Michael Townley, both experienced project managers with prior leadership roles at Resource Water Group (RWG - acquired by Babylon in August 2022) and with Tier 1 contractors.

Based in Perth, Matrix has developed a strong reputation in Western Australia's mining sector for delivering reliable, high-integrity aquifer testing, groundwater monitoring and mine-spec equipment deployment. Its services play a critical role in informing dewatering strategies, environmental compliance and long-term water management planning for large-scale resources projects.

Matrix has maintained a consistent and focused client base with major mining companies. Babylon views these client relationships as strategic to the combined group, noting the criticality of Matrix's services and their long-standing role as a trusted advisor to its clients.

Matrix's core value lies in its ability to collect, interpret and apply complex water data to support remediation or project-scale dewatering solutions. This expertise directly complements Babylon's rental segment, creating an opportunity to offer bundled diagnostic and rental solutions tailored to client needs. The acquisition also reunites Matrix's founders with Babylon's RWG test pumping team - completing the strategic vision that began with Babylon's acquisition of RWG in 2022.

Strategic Outlook

This transaction positions Babylon as a full-service provider in dewatering, aquifer diagnostics and water project management, with enhanced technical depth, a strong WA footprint and growing Tier 1 client exposure.

The acquisition of Matrix represents an important milestone in Babylon's broader inorganic growth strategy. While Matrix enhances Babylon's water services division, it is only one part of a longer-term vision to grow via targeted, value-accretive acquisitions. Any future acquisitions are expected to be debt-funded, reflecting Babylon's disciplined approach to capital management and commitment to maintaining sustainable leverage metrics.

Consideration

The total consideration payable for the acquisition of Matrix comprises:

- at completion, $2.0 million in cash and $500,000 in fully paid ordinary Babylon shares based on the 5-day VWAP preceding the date of issue, and
- subject to Matrix achieving a minimum of $800,000 of earnings before interest, taxes, depreciation and amortisation (EBITDA) for the financial year ending 30 June 2026, cash equal to 1 x EBITDA of Matrix for the financial year ending 30 June 2026.

The maximum total consideration (cash and scrip) represents a purchase price multiple of ~3.27x FY26 forecast EBITDA of $1.1 million, which is an attractive and value-accretive outcome for Babylon shareholders.

Accelerated Non-Renounceable Entitlement Offer:

To fund the upfront cash component of the Matrix acquisition and provide working capital, Babylon today also announces an Accelerated Non-Renounceable Entitlement Offer (ANREO) to raise approximately $3.5 million.

Key terms of the ANREO include:

- Entitlement ratio of seven (7) new fully paid ordinary shares in the Company for every twenty (20) existing shares held
- Issue price of $0.004 per share

The Company's largest shareholder, Belgravia Strategic Equities Pty Ltd and other entities controlled by Geoff Lord, along with major shareholder Resource Water Group, have indicated their intentions to take up their Entitlements in full.

Cumulus Wealth is Lead Manager to the Offer & Leeuwin Wealth Pty Ltd is Co-Manager.

The offer is fully described in a separate Offer Document released on or about 14 May 2025 on the ASX.

Eligible major shareholders were invited to participate in the accelerated portion of the ANREO (Institutional Entitlement Offer), with major shareholders indicating their intentions to provide $1.08m of accelerated entitlements.
