4 August 2025 – Perth, Australia – After some 30 years of innovation and contributions to the mission to decarbonize the built environment, Non-Executive Chairman and Founder of ClearVue Technologies Limited (ASX:CPV) (ClearVue or the Company), Mr. Victor Rosenberg, announces plans to retire in November 2025. In the meantime, Mr. Rosenberg will reduce his management fee by over 50% to $7,500AUD monthly.

"The founding, growth, and innovations our ClearVue team have made over the years have been the highlight of my six-decade-long career," said Mr. Victor (Vic) Rosenberg, Non-Executive Chairman and Founder, ClearVue Technologies. "As we have progressed ClearVue markedly forward in the last month with many significant changes, I am confident our leadership team are the right group of professionals to realize my dream to contribute to a cleaner, healthier environment for future generations and the Company's mission to decarbonize the built environment. Our transition plan will commence immediately with my plan to step away from the business in November 2025 during the regularly scheduled Annual General Meeting. During this time, I will gradually spend less time in the business as the new leadership takes on increasing responsibility for Company operations, thus my decreased management fee. I can go into retirement knowing ClearVue is on a path toward growth, creation of shareholder value, and continued product innovation that will be brought to buildings around the globe.”

“I have had the valuable opportunity to partner with Vic for over four years now and I am proud to call him my friend. It is bittersweet to support his retirement from a venture he has nurtured to its current stage after decades of professional investment,” said Mr. Douglas (Doug) Hunt, Chief Executive Officer, ClearVue Technologies. “Vic is one of the most steadfast individuals I have had the good fortune to work with. I look forward to working with Vic over the coming months to ensure the transition is seamless. Further, I am committed to taking the company forward with our dedicated leadership team to make his vision for the company a reality. It is our mission to make sure Vic will be proud to say he founded ClearVue as he enjoys more time with family and friends.”

Mr. Rosenberg has been a pioneer in the field glass technologies since the 1990s. Mr. Rosenberg started the venture with the company that ultimately became ClearVue, Tropicglas Technologies Pty Ltd, where advances in low-e coatings were made. This core technology and IP originally developed in conjunction with Edith Cowan University’s Electron Science Research Institute led to the transition to solar energy generating glass and ClearVue’s launch.

In addition to Mr. Rosenberg’s planned retirement, it was announced that Mr. Gerd Hoenicke will step down from ClearVue’s Board of Directors, effective immediately.

“Mr. Hoenicke joined our board in May 2023. Since then, he has provided his expertise in the façade industry to our extended team here at ClearVue,” said Mr. Rosenberg. “We thank Mr. Hoenicke for his contributions and the industry insights he has provided over the last two years.”

The Company continues its ongoing revitalisation program, which is concentrated on progressing financial performance, expanding the global partner network and advancing product innovation goals. As previously announced, ClearVue is holding an Investor Update meeting 13 August 2025. The public is invited to join the meeting in person at ClearVue headquarters located at Suite 7, 567 Newcastle Street, West Perth, Western Australia 6005 or virtually via Zoom. Everyone is invited to attend the investor update to learn more about the program.
