Marindi Completes Acquisition of Newman Base Metal Project

Marindi Metals Limited (ASX: MZN; "Marindi") is pleased to advise that it has made its final payment of $325,000 to Prairie Mining Limited (ASX: PDZ; "Prairie" to complete acquisition of 100% of the Newman Base Metal Project in WA.

Under the terms of the acquisition Prairie will maintain a 2.5% Net Smelter Return ("NSR") Royalty over the project.

Marindi thanks Prairie Mining for its co-operative and professional behaviour during the term of the joint venture.

Marindi believes strongly in the potential of the Newman Project to host a major base metal deposit. Moving to 100% ownership will provide greater exposure to any discovery as well as allow the Company to evaluate development options for the Prairie deposit and Wolf prospect against the backdrop of a continued improvement in the zinc price.

The acquisition of 100% of the Prairie Downs Project is consistent with Marindi's key corporate objective of becoming a major ASX-listed zinc company.
