Dear Mr Newman

Request for Extension of Voluntary Suspension

Quintis Ltd (ASX code: QIN, the "Company") refers to the voluntary suspension extension letter of 31 July 2017.

As advised in the Company's letter of 31 July 2017, the Company expected the voluntary suspension would come to an end on 31 August 2017 or when the Company released announcements concerning a potential transaction.

The Company remains in discussions with more than one party in relation to potential debt and equity transactions that would have the effect of achieving a recapitalisation of the Company.

These ongoing discussions also relate to the Company's senior secured notes reporting obligation waiver (see ASX announcements Update on Senior Secured Notes, 10 August 2017, 17 August 2017 and 24 August 2017) and the institutional investor put option (see ASX announcements Update of Put Option, 7 August 2017 and 14 August 2017). The Company is in ongoing discussions with these parties as part of the broader recapitalisation negotiations.

In addition, under ASX Listing Rules 4.3A and 4.3B, the Company is required to lodge its preliminary financial report for the year ended 30 June 2017 by today, 31 August 2017. The Company is not in a position to lodge its preliminary financial report as a result of the uncertainty surrounding the potential recapitalisation, in particular whether the preliminary financial report can be prepared on a going concern basis and the extent to which impairment charges are required to the Company's assets.

The potential transactions in relation to the recapitalisation of the Company create uncertainty and while the Company continues to seek to negotiate a series of inter-related transactions, which may or may not be finalised, the Company believes it is appropriate for its securities to remain in voluntary suspension.

The Company continues to consider that its circumstances are 'exceptional' (as described in ASX Guidance Note 16) and the Board remains concerned that the reinstatement of trading in the Company's securities before completion of these transactions could potentially mean that the market would not be trading on an informed basis. As indicated above, part of the transactions that the Company is working on involve equity elements and it is the Company's view that pricing volatility in the Company's equity at this time could materially prejudice the capacity to conclude these transactions. A failure to negotiate and complete the transactions, given the Company's current liquidity issues, is critical to the Company's continued solvency.

As a result, the Company has resolved to seek to extend the current voluntary suspension while it seeks to negotiate these transactions and finalise its preliminary financial report. The Company now expects that it may be in a position to provide a material update on the status of these transactions by 1 October 2017. In the event a binding recapitalisation proposal is agreed, it is possible that the Company could seek to have the suspension of trading in its securities extended until the recapitalisation is fully effected, which may be a period of some months.

The Company acknowledges that there have been a number of these ongoing requests to remain in voluntary suspension and notes that whilst the negotiations have been protracted, the Company is continuing to progress the potential transactions as quickly as possible.

In accordance with Listing Rule 17.2, the Company provides the following information in relation to this request:

- 2 The Company expects the voluntary suspension will continue until the earlier of the commencement of normal trading on 1 October 2017, or the release of an announcement by the Company on the potential transactions.
- 3 The Company confirms that it is not aware of any reason why its securities should not be suspended.
- 4 The Company confirms that it is not aware of any further information necessary to inform the market about the voluntary suspension.
