His experience with the operating Minera gold mine at an altitude of 4,800 metres in the Andes is directly relevant.

Emu's chairman, Peter Thomas said "Terry has an enviable record of seizing opportunities at the right time; apparently possessing a rare ability to make astute qualitative assessments of mineral assets. The timing of his arrival when coupled with the acceptance of and application of his acumen and skills has an uncanny nexus with significant uplifts in shareholder value. I am absolutely delighted that Terry has joined the board."

I wish to acknowledge Mr Steemson's unstinting efforts as former managing director of Emu."
