Angel Seafood announces appointment of Chief Financial Officer

Angel Seafood Holdings Ltd (ASX: AS1) (the "Company" or "Angel") is pleased to announce the appointment of Mr Simba Matute as Chief Financial Officer (CFO) to commence in late February 2019.

Mr Matute will lead the Company's financial operations, including strategic planning and budgeting processes, and will work closely with CEO Zac Halman to drive the financial performance of Angel and add significant rigour to its operations.

This appointment comes off the back of substantial growth in the operations of Angel, with the Company having added significant scale to its business since listing on the ASX in February 2018.

Commenting on the appointment, CEO Zac Halman, said, "We welcome Simba to the team and look forward to the value he will add to the Company. For me personally, it is great to have someone within the business that I can work with hand in hand to maximise efficiencies within the operations and continue to build the Company's financial health in order to take advantage of the right opportunities as we execute on our exciting growth journey.

"I would also like to thank Mr James Rogalski from Interacct for his services to Angel, and assisting the Company with its growth to date", said Mr Halman.

Mr Matute is an experienced finance executive with strong financial and analytical skills, and a proven capability to develop and lead finance and commercial functions in organisations of different sizes and industries. He is currently the Group Financial Controller for a mid-tier mining company listed on the ASX, where he has led the development of the finance function and team across 4 different geographies, and also took responsibility for project controls during the company's project phase

Prior to his current role, Mr Matute was the Head of Finance for a subsidiary of a multi-national corporation, and before that, he was a Senior Manager at PwC's Melbourne office in the assurance practice.

Mr Matute is a Chartered Accountant and holds an Executive MBA from the Melbourne Business School.
