

HAZER INTELLECTUAL PROPERTY UPDATE

- Hazer's second Australian innovation patent AU 2018101788 is now certified
- All other patent applications remain pending

PERTH, AUSTRALIA; 1 APRIL 2019: Hazer Group Ltd ("Hazer" or "the Company") (ASX:HZR) is pleased to announce that its second innovation patent has been certified.

AU 2018101788 – "A process for producing hydrogen and graphite from natural gases"

Hazer is pleased to announce that the second of two Australian innovation patents for which the company has applied has been certified. This patent is entitled: "A process for producing hydrogen and graphite from natural gases". Hazer's intellectual property filing and prosecution strategy, part of the Company's larger intellectual property strategy, is delivering granted and enforceable patent rights.

Remaining patent applications (see previous announcements) remain ongoing and continue to be pursued as per the normal procedures and timelines of the various relevant patent organisations.

Importantly, now that this patent has been certified, it is now enforceable against any potential infringer.

Hazer's Chief Executive Officer, Geoff Ward, states "We are very pleased to receive the certification of this innovation patent and the continued progress of our intellectual property strategy. Hazer is continuing to make strong progress in commercialising our Hazer technology as part of strong international and domestic interest in hydrogen technologies and investment opportunities."
