SRG Global secures ~$18m term contract with Kalgoorlie Consolidated Gold Mines

Highlights:

- SRG Global secures ~$18 million term contract with Kalgoorlie Consolidated Gold Mines
- Scope of works includes the provision of geotechnical ground support services
- Contract term is for a five-year term and commences immediately
- This contract award further strengthens SRG Global's long-standing partnership with Kalgoorlie Consolidated Gold Mines

SRG Global (ASX:SRG) is pleased to announce it has been awarded an ~$18 million contract for ground support works with Kalgoorlie Consolidated Gold Mines (KCGM), a joint venture owned by Newmont Australia and Barrick Gold Corporation in Western Australia.

KCGM has awarded the ground support works to SRG Global's Geotech business, who have been performing a range of services at the mine since 1997. Work under this contract includes both in phase ground support, rock fall mitigation and rock face remediation. Over the years SRG Global has developed highly specialised plant to meet the demands of the unique Super Pit environment.

Managing Director, Mr David Macgeorge said "This is a great contract award for SRG Global which continues our focus on securing term contracts. We have a long and proud history performing ground support works at the Kalgoorlie Super Pit for a number of years. We are very pleased to be awarded this contract and will continue to work closely with KCGM to deliver a strong result."
