Junior Mineral Exploration Incentive – Credits for those Participating in the Share Purchase Plan

Stavely was successful in its application to participate in the Junior Mineral Exploration Incentive Scheme (JMEI) for the 2019 year and as a result will allocate up to $1,576,603 in exploration tax credits to Australian resident shareholders participating in the Share Purchase Plan (and to those who have participated in placements and other capital raisings during the year). Existing shareholders who do not participate in the Share Purchase Plan or other placements will not be eligible for the distribution of 2019 JMEI tax credits. The precise amount of credit per share will be determined after 30 June 2019 and will be determined based on amounts raised during the year to 30 June 2019, together with the amount of eligible exploration spent for the year, and the tax result for Stavely.
