

MyFiziq joint venture partner BCT signs agreement with Global Health Engagement company Tictrac

MyFiziq Limited (ASX: MYQ) (“MyFiziq” or the “Company”) would like to inform shareholders that in addition to the term sheet announced on the 9th September with Tictrac UK.

Joint venture partner Body Composition Technologies has entered a non-binding term sheet with Tictrac UK. The agreement pertains specifically to the insurance, government health and medical use of the technology, whilst the MyFiziq agreement is for the use of the technology into fitness, corporate wellness and health programs.

Vlado Bosanac CEO of MyFiziq Limited said:

“Body Composition Technologies is engaged globally with multiple insurers and government health organisations. Tictrac is heavily involved in the insurance sector and furthermore with government organisations such as the National Health Services (NHS) in the UK. The technology is a sensible fit in these areas as the company has spent the last 2 years collecting data and identifying several the markers for chronic lifestyle diseases which can be identified through the application.

The early detection and intervention of chronic lifestyle diseases is required worldwide with the dramatic growth in type 2 diabetes and related conditions. Our technology has successfully demonstrated the ability to not only identify but segment participants into risk categories. We will be looking to demonstrate this to governments and health providers over the next 12 months with a view to making it available to populations around the world”.

About BCT

Body Composition Technologies (BCT), a 50% owned joint venture company with MyFiziq, which is focused on developing a cost effective, easily accessible and reliable smartphone-based body composition and anthropometric measurement tool for governments, insurers, medical organisations and the medical research markets.

Our aim is to assist governments, medical organisations and insurers with the endless inaccuracy they suffer in the dated methods of remote assessment. We work with our partners to give them better engagement and understanding of their consumer / populations whilst empowering them through our technology to make better health decisions which in turn will deliver better health outcomes and lower mortality rates.
