QUARTERLY ACTIVITIES REPORT FOR PERIOD ENDED 30 SEPTEMBER 2019

COMPANY OVERVIEW

Caravel Minerals Limited (ASX:CVV, “Caravel” or “Company”) is establishing the potential to develop the Caravel Copper Project, a greenfields copper mining and processing project located 150km from Perth in Western Australia’s Wheatbelt region (Diagram 1).

The potential project is based on a defined Mineral Resource of 1.86Mt contained copper (at 0.15% Cu cut-off) making it the largest copper resource in Western Australia and in the top ten largest copper projects in Australia.

During the quarter, Caravel has selectively continued critical path project feasibility items following the release of the scoping study. Work completed during previous quarters has positioned Caravel to work towards completion of a Pre-Feasibility Study, many parts of which are progressed to substantially progressed or complete. The company is also meeting and briefing key stakeholders whose input at this early stage in the development path is essential to planning and future implementation.

The Company has maintained discussions with parties who have approached it to review the Caravel Copper Project for investment purposes. Parties range from investment houses specialising in strategic copper interests to large copper producers with existing operational expertise and/or ownership of large porphyry-style deposits. The company is encouraged by the levels of interest and engagement being undertaken and is continuing discussions with groups on an ongoing basis.

SUMMARY

Caravel Copper Project

- A Scoping Study established the basis for a strong economic case to establish a new copper mining and processing operation to produce and export copper concentrate to global markets
- Based on outcomes of the Scoping Study, Caravel Minerals will proceed with more advanced feasibility studies
- Indicated and Inferred Mineral Resource estimate at a 0.25% Cu cut-off resulted in a total of 372 million tonnes at a grade of 0.35% Cu, containing 1.3 million tonnes of contained Cu
- Metallurgical test work demonstrates ore can be treating utilising standard sulphide copper processing techniques with very high recoveries
- Initial copper concentrate analyses demonstrates a very clean product with low level of impurities. The Caravel concentrate is anticipated to comply with smelter specifications free from penalties due to deleterious elements. Caravel concentrate is likely to be attractive to smelter customers globally to blend with complex concentrates.
- The company progressed stakeholder and community engagement with key groups critical to the project development.

Project

- Non-invasive, low impact passive seismic survey technology is being trialled to assist in the design of a water exploration program.
- During the quarter, a trial passive seismic survey was undertaken over a regional Paleochannel channel which shows promising results for defining the size and shape of the paleochannel cross section where future water evaluation drilling may take place.
- A broader passive seismic survey is being planned to take place over the next quarter. The passive seismic and other existing data will be used to help target drilling and evaluation work.
- Discussions were held with infrastructure providers and stakeholders on the provision of road and port services. These discussions will continue as the project progresses.

- A geotechnical program on site in the vicinity of the proposed plant and infrastructure is being planned to take place in the current quarter. The data will provide core information to optimise plant location and construction methodology.
- QEMSCAN will be carried out on a number of samples during the next period. QEMSCAN will provide determination of composition, size and shape of fine particles using scanning electron microscopy and X-ray techniques which will assist in mineral exploration, ore characterisation, and mineral process optimisation.
- Planning for prefeasibility activities including exploration, mining, metallurgy, infrastructure, approvals and stakeholder engagement continues.

Health & Safety

The Company incurred zero LTI's during the quarter.
