

ASX Release

13 November 2019

Babylon Engages Geoff Lord as its Strategic Advisor

Specialist resources services provider Babylon Pump & Power Limited (Babylon), is pleased to announce that it has engaged Australian business leader Geoff Lord as its strategic advisor.

Geoff is currently the Chairman and CEO of Belgravia Group, a large private group with a range of business and investment activities including financial services, technologies, health and leisure, property development, and equity investments. Geoff is focused on identifying high growth opportunities and supporting key Australian businesses accelerate their success. Geoff is currently the Company's largest shareholder, currently holding 19.5%.

Babylon Executive Chairman Michael Shelby said: "Geoff has a proven track record in successfully advising companies in the growth phase of their business cycle, assisting with business strategy, capital requirements, acquisition due diligence and developing new partnerships. We are excited Geoff will be part of our strategic team as a specialist advisor as we continue on our growth trajectory. We look forward to working closely with Geoff as Babylon continues to look for new opportunities that benefit all shareholders".

For further information please contact:

Michael Shelby

Executive Chairman
+61 (0) 8 9454 6309

