COVID-19 Operations Update

Yowie Group Ltd (ASX: YOW) (the “Group” or “Yowie”) wishes to advise the following update on the impact of COVID-19.

Yowie continues to monitor the effect of the COVID-19 pandemic on its staff and global operations, with the health and safety of its employees being paramount.

The Group has implemented plans to reduce exposure to its employees and address operational changes required to maintain business continuity. These plans have been implemented across Yowie’s operations and will continue to be amended as the situation evolves.

The full ongoing effect of COVID-19 on the Group’s business remains uncertain. However, current indications suggest global sales will continue to be materially impacted. At this stage, it is difficult to quantify the full impact on sales.

As reported on 24 April 2020, the March quarter trend and the uncertainty of the current market environment resulting from COVID-19 confirms the overall outlook from the December quarter update that the Group will fall short of FY19 revenue affecting EBITDA.

This trend has continued into the fourth quarter with month-on-month net sales in April falling by 52% from US$857k in March to US$408k in April. As previously reported, the back half of March showed a huge drop in retailer foot traffic. Also, shoppers were not bringing children shopping, further affecting impulse sales. This trend has continued as the shutdown in the US and Australia continues with no clear indication of timing on the relaxation of restrictions.

Due to measures implemented by the Group, cash reserves have increased from US$10.55 million at 31 March 2020 to US$11.06 million at 30 April 2020. This improved cash position is due to a combination of current high inventory levels as a result of preparing for temporary manufacturing shutdown and further salary and cost reductions.
