

ANNOUNCEMENT TO THE AUSTRALIAN SECURITIES EXCHANGE

Chairman's AGM Address

2014 has been an extremely challenging year for the resources industry and in particular the junior end of the market. Most metal prices are at multi-year lows and investors' appetite for risk appears to be very low in the current market. This has severely impacted junior miners and is reflected in the indices. While the ASX 200 Index is down 0.5% over the last 12 months, the ASX 300 Metals & Mining Index is down by 16%, with many junior resources stocks having fared even worse.

There have been signs of life in the market recently, with a number of financings in the September 2014 quarter suggesting an improved sentiment. However the market remains fragile and it continues to be a difficult time for junior resources companies. This sentiment is echoed in the other key resources exchanges in Canada and London. Indeed, this is a situation reminiscent of the early 2000's that many of us battled through, and survived.

While our share price since the ASX listing in March 2013 has continued to suffer along with the rest of the market, we remain in a sound financial position with approximately $7.2 million cash and a public listing that will facilitate corporate growth in the future. We continue to manage our remaining cash prudently and continue to reduce costs. This places us in a far stronger financial position than most junior resource companies.

Paradoxically, difficult markets present opportunities for companies with financial backing and teams capable of capitalising on such opportunities. OreCorp Limited (OreCorp or the Company) is certainly such a company. We have been actively looking for acquisitions at both the asset and corporate levels. Indeed, our search for projects has now extended out of Africa, to the Americas and beyond, as well as closer to home.

Although we have not yet concluded an acquisition, we have come very close on a number of occasions, and are continually assessing opportunities in a highly disciplined manner. To this end, OreCorp is not a shell waiting for something to happen and is actively engaged in generating the right outcome for its shareholders. Our prime objective is to acquire an exciting exploration or development asset, that has a realistic chance of being a producer in this commodity price constrained environment. While the acquisition road has proved challenging, we are confident that we will ultimately acquire the right asset base to grow the Company and enhance shareholder value.

ABOUT ORECORP:

OreCorp Limited is a Western Australian based mineral company with gold & base metal projects in Ethiopia and Mauritania.

Whilst we have cut back exploration activities to conserve funds, we have refined the Anomaly 5 nickel-copper prospect in Mauritania and intend to complete an IP survey as soon as possible. Anomaly 5 was identified through a regional geochemical program and enhanced by trenching and detailed soil sampling. It represents a significant greenfields opportunity for nickel-copper mineralisation, just thirty kilometres from a bitumen highway. We eagerly await the completion of the survey that we hope will define drill targets for follow up evaluation.

The Company also completed extensive trench and surface sampling programs in Ethiopia. These activities have progressed our Ethiopian targets to a point where OreCorp is now seeking a JV partner on its Yubdo-Ursa Project.

While noting the challenging times currently facing the industry, we have all experienced a number of cycles and we know that commodity prices will eventually recover. Now is the time to position for the next cycle. Your Board and management team are highly experienced and will have OreCorp well positioned to take advantage. We will continue striving towards this goal, making the year ahead one of opportunity, and potentially one of success.

Thank you for your continued support.

Matthew Yates will now deliver the Company's Investor Presentation (refer attached).
