Uranium Mining in Western Australia

Vimy Resources Limited ("Vimy") would like to affirm that Western Australian Government policies are fully supportive of uranium mining in Western Australia.

Following the decision earlier this week by the Queensland State Government to once again prohibit uranium mining in Queensland, we have had overseas stakeholders contact the Company concerned that this ban could potentially effect the Mulga Rock Uranium Project.

We would like to make it clear that Vimy is a Perth-based resource development company, with its primary focus on the development of the Mulga Rock Uranium Project located 240km ENE of Kalgoorlie in Western Australia.

Vimy does not have any operations in Queensland and therefore, this decision of the Queensland Government does not effect the operations of the Company.

We note that the WA Government remains a strong supporter of uranium mining in Western Australia and this position was confirmed in a media release by the government dated 19 March 2015. This media release can be viewed on Vimy's website: vimyresources.com.au.

Yours sincerely,

Mike Young
