Dear Sir

Medtech Launches Evolution to Help Time-Poor Australian Doctors

Medtech Global today launches Medtech EVOLUTION, its new clinical and practice management software for General Practice in Australia. One of the most advanced practice management systems available, Evolution is designed to improve clinical workflows and practice efficiency, and importantly, save GPs time.

Vino Ramayah, CEO of Medtech Global, says "It's well known that General Practitioners and Practice Managers are under significant time pressure every day. In particular, interactions between patient, front desk, GP and practice have been streamlined to save everyone time. We have developed Medtech EVOLUTION to help practices gain more control over their time, with less clicks and less work."

Dr Igor Jakubowicz, General Practitioner at Knoxfield and Colchester Medical Centres, has used Medtech EVOLUTION as a beta client for over two months and says, "Medtech EVOLUTION does everything you want with a minimum of fuss. It is fully featured, powerful and straight-forward to use, resulting in a low learning curve for new doctors."

Medtech EVOLUTION is integrated with other Medtech products including ManageMyHealth™ patient and provider portal which further improves the efficiency of practices through streamlined online interactions. These products are already deployed and gaining momentum in several countries.

Yours faithfully
