Key Risks

Factors influencing success and risk

This section identifies the areas the Directors believe to be the major risks associated with an investment in Diversa.

The Diversa business is subject to risk factors, both specific to its business activities, and risks of a general nature. Individually, or in combination, these might affect the future operating performance of Diversa and the value of an investment in the Company. There can be no guarantee that Diversa will achieve its stated objectives or that any forwarding-looking statements or forecasts will eventuate. An investment in the Company should be considered in light of relevant risks, both general and specific.

Each of the risks set out below could, if it eventuates, have a material adverse impact on Diversa's operating performance and profits, and the market price of the Shares and the Convertible Notes.

Before deciding to invest in the Company, potential investors should:

- read all of the Company's disclosures released to ASX
- review these factors in light of their personal circumstances; and
- seek professional advice from their accountant, stockbroker, lawyer or other professional adviser before deciding whether to invest.

Specific investment risks

Completion risk

- The acquisition of and interest in TFS is subject to Diversa raising not less than $3,000,000 and the acquisition agreement contains termination rights in favour of Diversa in the event that certain events take place between signing of the agreement and completion. The Placement is not subject to completion of the TFS Acquisition.
- Accordingly, if the TFS Acquisition does not complete because of a failure to satisfy the condition precedent (or any other reason), an investment in New Shares under the Placement will not include exposure to TFS, and Diversa will use the proceeds raised under the Placement for alternative purposes (i.e. general corporate purposes, to provide flexibility in respect of other potential acquisitions and to strengthen the balance sheet).

Reliance on information provided

- Diversa undertook due diligence processes in respect of both TFS and TTCSL, which relied in part on the review of financial and other information provided by the respective sellers. Diversa has not been able to verify the accuracy, reliability or completeness of all the information which was provided to it against independent data. Similarly, Diversa has prepared (and made assumptions in the preparation of) the financial information relating to both TFS and TTCSL on a stand-alone basis and also to Diversa post-acquisition (Combined Group) included in this presentation in reliance on limited financial information and other information provided by the sellers. Diversa is unable to verify the accuracy or completeness of all of that information. If any of the data or information provided to and relied upon by Diversa in its due diligence process and its preparation of this presentation proves to be incomplete, incorrect, inaccurate or misleading, there is a risk that the actual financial position and performance of either TFS or TTCSL, or both, and the Combined Group may be materially different to the financial position and performance expected by Diversa and reflected in this presentation. Investors should also note that there is no assurance that the due diligence conducted was conclusive and that all material issues and risks in respect of the Acquisitions have been identified. Therefore, there is a risk that unforeseen issues and risks may arise, which may also have a material impact on Diversa.

Analysis of acquisition opportunity

- Diversa has undertaken financial, business and other analyses of both TFS and TTCSL in order to determine their attractiveness to Diversa and whether to pursue the Acquisitions. It is possible that such analysis, and the best estimate assumptions made by Diversa, draws conclusions and forecasts that are inaccurate or which are not realised in due course. To the extent that the actual results achieved by either TFS or TTCSL, or both, are different from those indicated by Diversa's analysis, there is a risk that the profitability and future earnings of the operations of the Combined Group may be materially different from the profitability and earnings expected as reflected in this presentation.

Integration risk

- The Acquisitions involve the integration of the TFS and TTCSL businesses, which had previously operated independently from Diversa. As a result, there is a risk that the integration of the businesses may be more complex than currently anticipated, encounter unexpected challenges or issues and take longer than expected, divert management attention or not deliver the expected benefits and this may affect Diversa's operating and financial performance. Further, the integration of the businesses accounting functions may lead to revisions, which may impact on the Combined Group's reported financial results.

Historical liability

If the Acquisitions complete, Diversa will become directly or indirectly liable for any liabilities that TFS and TTCSL have incurred in the past, including those which were not identified during its due diligence or which are greater than expected, and for which the protection (in the form of insurance, representations and warranties and indemnities) negotiated by Diversa prior to its respective agreements to acquire TFS and TTCSL turn out to be inadequate in the circumstances. Such liability may adversely affect the financial performance or position of Diversa following the acquisitions.

Acquisition accounting

- Diversa will undertake a formal fair value assessment of all of the assets, liabilities and contingent liabilities of TFS and TTCSL post-acquisition, which may give rise to a materially different fair value allocation to that used for purposes of the pro-forma financial information set out in this presentation. Such a scenario will result in a reallocation of the fair value of assets and liabilities acquired to or from goodwill and also an increase or decrease in depreciation and amortisation charges in the Combined Group's income statement (and a respective increase or decrease in net profit after tax).

Change of control

- The Acquisitions may trigger change of control clauses in some material contracts to which TFS and TTCSL respectively are party. Where triggered, the change of control clauses will in most cases require counterparty consent. If any of the material contracts containing a change of control clause are terminated or renegotiated on less favourable terms, it may have an adverse impact on Diversa's financial performance and prospects.

FUM and FUA risks in current market

- The most significant near term risk is a reduction in FUM and FUA and the associated decrease in revenues impacting on the profitability of the Company. The amount of FUM and FUA is influenced by a variety of general economic and specific business conditions including the level of inflation, interest rates and government fiscal, monetary and regulatory policies, investment performance, product and service costs and service delivery. Prolonged deterioration in general economic and financial market conditions could be expected to have a corresponding adverse impact on FUM and FUA and therefore Diversa.

Reduction in FUM and FUA

- There is also a risk that members of client funds could transfer their interests to competing funds, that they could reduce their investments or cease to contribute altogether. This would have a negative impact on FUM and FUA, and therefore fees received by Diversa.

Regulation and industry reform

- A significant risk for Diversa, as for all professional service providers, is that claims of professional negligence may be made against Diversa.
- Diversa maintains professional indemnity insurance to cover liabilities in the event of a claim of negligence.
- In the event of a successful claim for professional negligence being made against Diversa, this may impact the Company by:

 - costs incurred in defending claims;

 - increasing future insurance premiums or making professional indemnity insurance unavailable.

It may be difficult to replace them, or to do so in a timely manner or at comparable expense. Loss of key personnel may also impact on Diversa's ability to hold and maintain its licences. Additionally, any key personnel of the Company who leave to work for a competitor may adversely impact Diversa.
- In summary, Diversa's ability to attract and retain personnel will have a direct correlation upon its ability to deliver its stated objectives. Additionally, increases in recruitment, wages and contractor costs in order to attract and retain key personnel may adversely impact upon the financial performance of Diversa.

Technology and information systems

These information systems may fail, or not operate effectively. Diversa may fail to sufficiently update its technology and this may result in a loss of business.

 - » business integration of any new business may not be successful;
 - » management time may be diverted;
 - » the acquired entities may give rise to unanticipated liabilities; and
 - » Diversa may need to raise additional debt or equity funding and may not be able to obtain such funding on favourable terms.

Mergers and acquisitions

Access to funding

- Diversa is pursuing a growth strategy which may require additional funding to be obtained by the Company. In addition, the growth strategy will influence the profitability due to scale of operations and the ability to achieve economies of scale, and synergies from complementary operations. There is no assurance that Diversa will be successful in its efforts to arrange additional financing, if adequate financing it is not available, Diversa may be required to delay, or cease its growth strategy, and reduce its operating expenditure.

General investment risks

Share market investments

- It is important to recognise that Diversa's shares are quoted on ASX and the market price might rise or fall. There can also be no assurance that an active trading market will develop for those shares.
- Factors affecting the price at which the shares are traded on ASX could include domestic and international economic conditions. In addition, the prices of many listed entities' securities are affected by factors that might be unrelated to the operating performance of the relevant company.
- Such fluctuations might adversely affect the price of the shares.

General economic conditions

- Diversa's operating and financial performance is influenced by a variety of general economic and business conditions including the level of inflation, interest rates and government fiscal policy, the impact of natural disasters, monetary and regulatory policies. Prolonged deterioration in general economic conditions, including an increase in interest rates, could be expected to have a corresponding adverse impact on Diversa's operating and financial performance.
