RPM enters into SAP's PartnerEdge Program for Application Development Partners

23 July 2014

RungePincockMinarco Limited (ASX: RUL) [RPM] today announced that it has furthered strengthened and expanded its existing strategic partnership with SAP SE by entering into SAP's PartnerEdge Program for Application Development Partners.

The SAP PartnerEdge program is a new partnering program which provides RPM with even greater access to SAP Development software, personnel and development resources and "go-to-market" enablement support. As RPM continues to expand its development program and tight integration into SAP's applications this higher level of cooperation and support will mean RPM's will be able to get its products to market even quicker.

The PartnerEdge Program enables RPM to obtain SAP Application Review and Integration Certification of its integrated software offering with SAP's technology platforms. For an SAP customer, the SAP certification logo is the strongest proof of the technical alignment of a partner's solution with SAP solutions.

Additionally, as an SAP PartnerEdge Partner, RPM will have access to SAP's customers and other partners through its listing in SAP's Application Development Partner Directory, together with the ability to market and sell its certified software through the online SAP Store.

Commenting on the PartnerEdge program RPM's CTO Paul Beesley said, "The more work that we undertake with SAP the better we are getting at understanding the benefits that this relationship provides to our joint customers. We now have dedicated SAP architects on staff who are building live integration between our systems and SAP's on customer sites. The more we do, the better we are getting at it."

Eckhardt Siess, Global Vice President IBU Mill Products & Mining for SAP commented, "RPM is a very advanced solution provider when it comes to enterprise mine planning software and together with them, we are delivering unsurpassed value to clients. Our people on the ground are working closely with RPM's development teams to further advance our complimentary offerings and we are excited about this next step."
