Dear Fellow Shareholder

Highlights

- MetroCoal has announced its intention to take over Cape Alumina Limited (Cape).
- If MetroCoal gains full control over Cape it will:
 - hold attractive bauxite tenements in Cape York,
 - progress the Bauxite Hills project which has near term development potential,
 - maintain its Surat Basin coal assets for future development,
 - reduce the total corporate costs of the two companies by approximately $0.5M per year by moving to a single listed entity.
- Cape announces direct shipped ore (DSO) JORC inferred resource.
- Currently MetroCoal owns 57% of Cape and the scrip offer is for the remaining 43%.
- MetroCoal remains in a very strong cash position with $6.5 million as at 30 June 2014.

In my last letter to shareholders, dated 11 April this year, I outlined our company strategy and explained the reasons for our interest in the bauxite sector and Cape Alumina Limited (Cape). We have continued to progress along this path with significant developments being achieved in a number of areas, culminating in our announcement on Monday 4th August of our intention to make a scrip based bid of the remaining 43% of Cape shares that MetroCoal does not already own. Attached is a copy of the MTE: ASX release 4 August 2014

Since we achieved a 57% holding in Cape Alumina in April 2014 several key developments have occurred including:

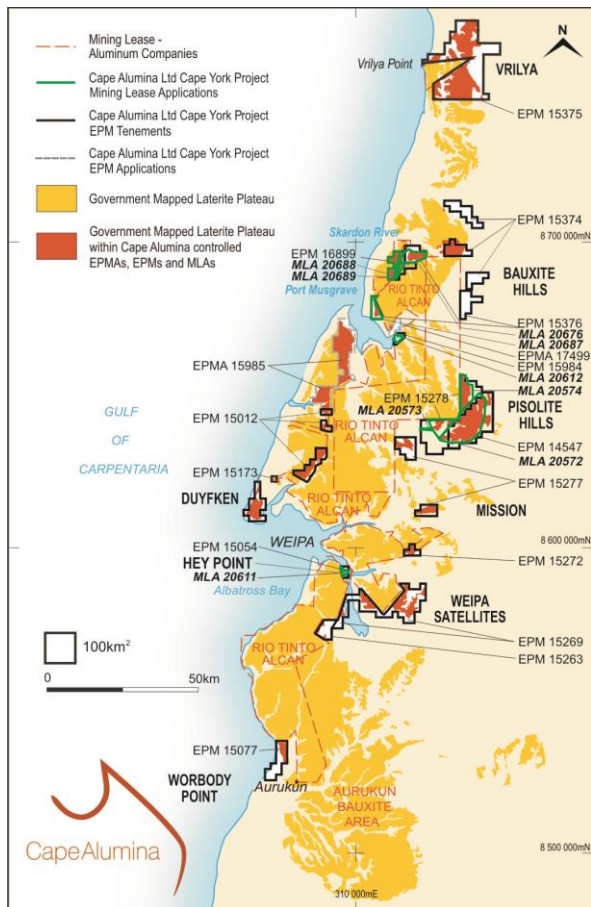

- Resolution of the uncertainty regarding future land use conflicts in Cape York through proclamation by the Queensland Government of the Regional Planning Interests Act 2014 and the Regional Planning Interests Regulation 2014. This gives us the confidence to focus on the development of the Bauxite Hills project;
- Cape recently completed an internal review of possible development scenarios for Bauxite Hills and has concluded, subject to further work being completed, that a low capital cost economically viable project may be able to be developed. Cape management have announced their intention to push ahead with the preliminary stages of environmental approvals and to complete additional technical studies;
- Cape recently announced an inferred resource for DSO in the Bauxite Hills project (CBX: ASX Release 11 August 2014)
- Cape, with MetroCoal's assistance has lodged an unsolicited proposal for the development of the Aurukun bauxite project. The proposal is currently before the Queensland government for consideration;
- The continuing improvement in the fundamentals and outlook of the Bauxite market.

For these reasons the MetroCoal Board believes it is in our shareholders' best interest to move to take over the remaining 43% of Cape that it does not already own and, importantly in the short term, the combined entities will save in excess of $500k per year in corporate costs. These savings are in addition to the savings already achieved by the amalgamation of various MetroCoal and Cape management functions, management redundancies and consolidation of back office and company secretarial functions.

The creation of a single listed entity will allow MetroCoal shareholders to directly gain from the benefits that may arise from the potential development of the Bauxite Hills project in the short term and possibly other Cape York bauxite deposits in the medium term.

Although MetroCoal remains confident that exposure to the bauxite sector will provide positive returns for MetroCoal shareholders while awaiting the recovery of the thermal coal market the Company will continue to review new opportunities both in Australia and overseas in parallel with the proposed Cape acquisition and will keep you informed of these and any other developments.

About Cape Alumina*

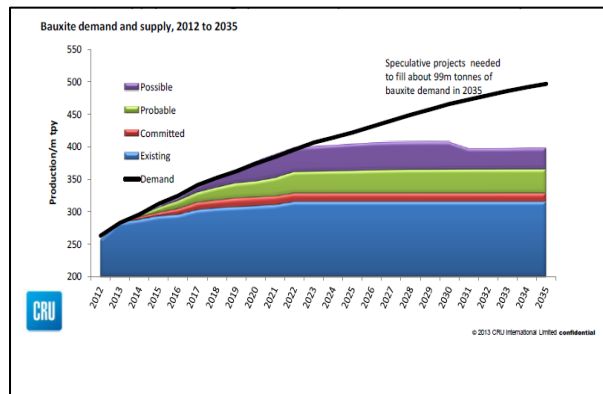

*CBX: ASX Release 11 August 2014

Cape Alumina controls approximately 1,900 square kilometres of mining and exploration tenements in western Cape York, shown in the location map on the left.

Key features of the resources at Bauxite Hills and the Weipa region, expected to have positive implications for potential project economics, include:

- Very shallow, free-digging bauxite with minimal overburden thickness and very low strip ratios, which suggests that mining costs will be low;
- Very close to coastal waters and international shipping routes, potentially lowering transport capital and operating costs; and
- High alumina content compared to other Australian bauxite provinces (outside Weipa region) - a lower Bauxite to Alumina ratio reduces overall shipping and refinery input costs.

Bauxite supply and demand

The figure on the left, taken from the CRU International Limited Bauxite Long Term Market Outlook 2013 Edition, shows the forecast bauxite supply and demand.

It illustrates the gap between forecast demand and forecast supply from new projects. In order to meet the forecast demand the industry will have to develop new projects in addition to those already identified in the probable and possible categories.

On behalf of the board, I thank you for your continuing support.

Yours sincerely

Stephen Everett
Chairman

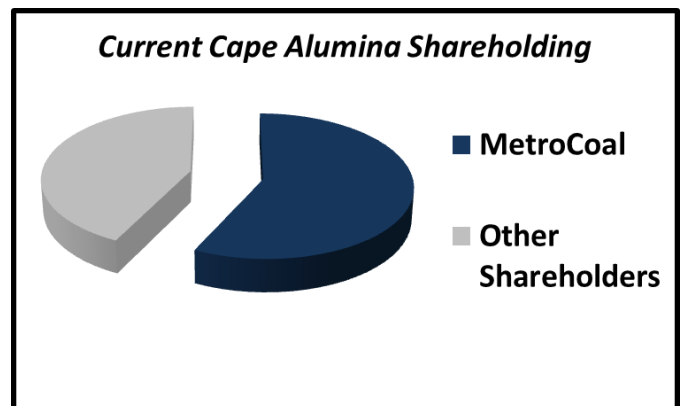

ASX ANNOUNCEMENT

4 August 2014

MetroCoal announces intention to make a scrip offer for the remaining shares in Cape Alumina Limited

Highlights

- MetroCoal Limited (Metro) confirms its intention to make an off-market takeover offer for the remaining 43% of shares in Cape Alumina (Cape) it does not already own (Offer)
- Metro is offering existing Cape shareholders 1 Metro share for every 1.3 Cape shares they own.
- The Offer represents a premium of approximately 35% to the 20 day VWAP (to 1 August 2014) for each Cape share¹.
- The Offer is not subject to a minimum acceptance condition.
- If the takeover bid is successful (where Metro achieves 100% ownership of Cape), the merged entity will hold extensive bauxite tenements in Cape York, including the Bauxite Hills Project, as well as an interest in extensive thermal coal in the Surat Basin and over $6 million in cash.
- If Metro achieves 100% ownership of Cape its cash reserves will be available to accelerate the pre-feasibility studies and environmental approvals for the Bauxite Hills project.
- There is a risk that Cape will not be able to raise sufficient funds to progress their projects without MetroCoal support.
- If Cape becomes a wholly owned subsidiary of Metro then approximately $500k p.a. will be saved from not having to maintain Cape as an ASX public company.

The consideration under the Offer will be one (1) Metro ordinary share for each one point three (1.3) Cape shares on issue.

Full acceptance of the Offer would result in existing Cape shareholders owning approximately 27.6% of the consolidated MetroCoal entity.

¹ Based on the implied Offer price of Metro shares of 4.09c which is the 20 Day VWAP (to 1 August 2014) for Metro shares.

The benefits of the Offer to Cape shareholders

Metro believes that the Offer for Cape provides considerable benefits to the shareholders of Cape especially given Cape's low cash position of $1.4M as at 30 June 2014, according to Cape's Quarterly Cash Flow Report released to the ASX on 7 July 2014, which is insufficient to take the Bauxite Hills Project forward. It should be noted that there is no certainty that Cape's shares would trade at or above the implied Offer price once the Metro Offer lapses. Given MetroCoal currently holds 57.22% of Cape, Metro considers that it is unlikely that a competing bidder will emerge.

The benefits to Cape's shareholders include:

- a significant premium of approximately 35% to the 20 day VWAP of Cape Shares²;
- allowing Cape shareholders (through their resulting equity position in Metro) the opportunity to participate in:
 - the accelerated development of Cape's Bauxite Hills projects;
 - a diversified bulk commodities entity with significant bauxite and thermal coal resource projects; and
 - a simplified and lower cost corporate entity to drive shareholder value;
- using Metro's cash ($6.5M as at 30 June 2014) removes uncertainty and avoids the risks over CBX's capacity to develop and fund its operations going forward, given its significant impending working capital requirements.

In addition:

- Cape shareholders could be further diluted through alternative fundraising mechanisms.
- If Metro gains 100% of Cape then savings of approximately $500k p.a. could be attained through the delisting of Cape.
- The proposed takeover is an effective mechanism to provide funds for the environmental and technical studies for Bauxite Hills.
- There is no minimum acceptance condition to the Offer.

Background to the Offer

MetroCoal acquired a 57.23% holding in Cape through an "on market" bid which closed on 5 May 2014. Since then Metro has been actively assisting Cape in progressing its Bauxite Hills project and reduce costs through restructuring and amalgamating corporate functions.

On 13 June 2014 the Queensland Government proclaimed the Regional Planning Interests Act 2014 and also made the Regional Planning Interests Regulation 2014. This legislation establishes the approval process for resource activities in areas of regional interest and confirms that there is no impact to any of Cape Alumina's

Bauxite Hills tenements or the proposed mine and port project area. This proclamation removes uncertainty regarding future land conflicts and allows Cape to focus on the development of the Bauxite Hills project.

Metro has also assisted Cape in lodging a proposal for the development of Aurukun with the Queensland government.

Cape recently completed an internal review of possible development scenarios for Bauxite Hills and has concluded that if a DSO (direct shipped ore) product can be produced and transhipped via Skardon River then a low capital cost economically viable project may be able to be developed at Bauxite Hills. This internal review has given management sufficient confidence to push ahead with the preliminary stages of environmental approvals and to complete additional technical studies to firm up the existence of a DSO product prior to committing to a feasibility study which will require additional funding.

MetroCoal's entry into the bauxite sector was prompted by the current positive fundamentals and attractive outlook for the bauxite sector. The positive outlook is supported by a number of factors including the Indonesian Government's ban on bauxite exports and India's recent announcement of their intention to increase their bauxite export tax from 10% to 20%.

The impact of these factors is borne out by the upward trend in the bauxite price, making bauxite one of the few bulk commodities with increasing prices and a positive outlook.

Funding Cape Projects

Cape requires funds to take advantage of the favourable outcomes from the Government's Cape York Regional Plan and Cape's review of Bauxite Hills and the continuing firm bauxite market by accelerating the development of Bauxite Hills.

Although Cape has a number of options by which it may raise funds the MetroCoal board believes it is unlikely to raise the necessary funds without Metro's support and, if it were to be successful, existing Cape shareholders will have to contribute additional funds in any offering or otherwise risk further dilution of their equity position.

Metro strongly believes that the proposed Offer presents Cape with the best opportunity to provide the funds necessary to accelerate Bauxite Hills and is in the best interests of both Cape's and Metro's shareholders.

Should MetroCoal not gain full control of Cape then Cape will be required to raise funds through other mechanisms and it is Metro's view that this could delay the Bauxite Hills project disadvantaging all shareholders.

Small Shareholders

MetroCoal recognises that there is a large number of Cape shareholders with unmarketable parcels. These shareholders are disadvantaged because, due to the small size of their holdings they cannot exit without paying excessive brokerage fees and can only top up "on market".

Following the completion of the Offer, MetroCoal will investigate options to allow the small shareholders to top up their investment in MetroCoal before following up with a buy-back of any remaining unmarketable parcels of Cape shares. This will allow those shareholders who wish to retain an interest in the merged entity to do so while at the same time provide an easy exit for the holders of unmarketable parcels.

Conditions to the Offer

The Offer is not subject to a minimum acceptance condition.

It is subject to a minimal number of conditions, many of which are customary for a transaction of this type. Details of the proposed Offer conditions are set out in the annexure to this announcement.

Next steps and timetable

The Metro Bidder's Statement is expected to be lodged by late August 2014 and will subsequently be despatched to Cape shareholders.
