Urbanise expands education customer base with Chicago agreement

Urbanise.com Limited (Urbanise) (ASX:UBN) announced today that it had entered into a hosted services agreement with Chicago Maintenance & Construction LLC (Chicago) – facility manager to the world's largest private education provider. Under the agreement, Chicago plans to rollout the Urbanise platform across its entire portfolio.

Urbanise CEO Ben Churchill said, "Chicago's portfolio includes more than 50 GEMS schools throughout the UAE. Chicago Home also provides home maintenance and lifestyle services to thousands of teachers working in these schools. As a vertically integrated provider that also manufactures and supplies furniture and joinery, working with Chicago provides us with the opportunity to facilitate product supply to schools, homes and businesses using the Urbanise platform."

Chicago Chief Operating Officer Craig Adams said he has not seen technology that meets the requirements of the business and its clients as well as the Urbanise platform.

"Understanding the needs of our clients has always been Chicago's priority. Transforming how we communicate with our clients to better meet those needs is what Urbanise allows us to do. In partnership with Urbanise, we have been able to bring together our complete operations and customer journey in a single platform to considerably improve on efficiency, delivery, transparency and customer care. This has given us a unique selling point for both existing and new customers."
