COMPANY STRATEGY

Krucible Metals Limited (Krucible) (Company) (ASX: KRB) wishes to outline its intended activities for the period ending 31 March 2015:

1. Conducting a detailed technical review and assessment of all the existing company projects and assets;
2. Assessing new growth opportunities in the form of new project acquisitions; and
3. Examining the use of the Company's significant cash position. This refers to the efficient use of these funds from both the Company and Shareholder viewpoint.

The Board's overall objective is to restore market credibility to the Company's assets and management, thus returning the Company's share price to a value that more accurately reflects Krucible's underlying assets.

CAPITAL MANAGEMENT

The Company confirms that if it has not established a better use for the Company's significant cash position by the quarter ending 31 March 2015, it will return a minimum of $0.01 per share to shareholders.

This may take the form of a special dividend or capital return; the Company will assess the best mechanism to return capital if, or when, the Company proceeds with the return. The mechanism used will then determine shareholder eligibility and regulatory requirements to complete the return.
