
CHANGE OF NAME AND ASX CODES

The Board of Directors is pleased to announce the change of company name from 'Qanda Technology Ltd' (ASX: QNA) to 'Collaborate Corporation Limited' (ASX: CL8) following receipt of shareholder approval of this special resolution at the Company's AGM.

The Directors believe that this new name better reflects the Company's focus on peer to peer marketplaces and collaborative consumption opportunities and the core operations of the business. The new name also enhances the link between the core operations of the business and the parent company's identity.

The name change will also result in a change of ASX codes to 'CL8' for fully paid ordinary shares and 'CL8O' for listed options and this will take effect from the commencement of trading on 15 December 2014, in accordance with ASX regulations.
